K. of C. Rezoning Proposal Again Met By Opposition

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Knights of Columbus parcel on Frontage Road is a case of "spot zoning in reverse," the Planning Board was told Tuesday night, a six-acre spot of residential land almost entirely surrounded by industry.

Townspeople who live in the area don't see it that way, however: They told the board that rezoning the land for industrial use would represent one more triumph for "creeping industrialization" in Andover.

Annual town meeting will decide in April whether to rezone the Single Residence C zone to Industrial D, the town's most restrictive industrial zone. The Knights of Columbus hopes to sell the parcel to Charter Development Corp. of Wakefield; the developer has held a one-year option to buy the site since last April.

In a public hearing before the planning board Tuesday night, Charter Development presented its plans for rezoning and developing the site.

The start of the hearing was delayed for 45 minutes while the planners searched for a meeting room large enough to accomodate an overflow crowd of more than 100, which eventually ended up on the school department side of the town/school office building.

Aside from representatives of the developer and the K. of C., only one citizen spoke in favor of the proposal. Robert Flannery of Beacon Street said it was "high time" the Frontage Road land was rezoned, because it is "spot zoning in reverse" — a residential parcel in the midst of industrial land.

Other citizens cited existing traffic problems, inadequate roads, and the continuing "industrialization" of Andover as their reasons for opposing the rezoning plan.

Andover Atty. Richard Asoian, representing the developer, explained that the site is located at the corner of Osgood Street and Frontage Road. The Raytheon plant is located to the north of the site, the Vycorp office building to the south, and Route 93 to the east. Its Frontage Road neighbors include a site proposed for a Digital Equipment Corp. plant, and two houses on Osgood Street.

Brian Gagne, vice president of Charter Development, said his firm would like to build a three-story, 87,000-square foot, brick-and-glass office building on the site. According to investment counselor David Cook of Needham, the $6 million building's "prime office space" would attract a national firm looking for exposure along Route 93.

Engineer William Bergeron said Charter Development would redesign the Frontage Road/Osgood Street intersection to make it safer, and would landscape a new buffer zone between the site and the neighboring residences as well. One access road off Frontage Road would feed into the parking lot, which would hold 305 cars.

Bergeron also noted that Charter hopes to tie into a Dascomb Road sewer line proposed for the nearby Digital site. However, Public Works Director Robert McQuade cautioned that that proposed line remains "only a possibility."

Gagne said a sewer connection would be the developer's "primary choice," but the project would be built with septic systems if necessary.

Cook estimated that the new building would pay $120,000 in property taxes each year (compared to $800 paid by the tax-exempt K. of C.) and create about 300 jobs.

Planning Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw emphasized that town meeting will not vote on Charter Development's plans for the site, but strictly on the rezoning question.

"What you see may not be what you get," she told the audience, referring to the developer's presentation. "We're voting on zoning — we're not voting on buildings. Please don't think that this is written in stone."

If the site is rezoned to Industrial D, town zoning laws would allow research and development, light manufacturing, and agricultural uses there. With a permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals, an ID site can also be used for a bank, trade or professional school, hotel, restaurant, or livestock farm.

Planner Russ Moran asked why it would be in the town's best interests to rezone the Knights of Columbus property from SRC to ID. Atty. Asoian replied that it was "not feasible" to build houses on the site because of its proximity to Route 93 and the neighboring industrial sites.

"The best possible use of the property in the long run is the Industrial D zone," Asoian said.

Cook said Charter's proposal would have "minimal impact on the neighborhood" because the area is already largely industrial. The new office building would be smaller than the Raytheon and Digital plants, he said, and the same size

Fire Station Information Meeting

The South School PTO will hold an open informational meeting in the cafe at South School on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss Andover's tentative plans for the new fire station. Donn Byrne, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, will attend the meeting to address questions regarding this issue.

Hearing On Forest Plan At Library

The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management (DEM) will hold a public hearing on a proposed plan for managing Harold Parker State Forest at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Feb. 25, at Memorial Hall Library.

According to DEM officials, the management plan was drafted by the state as part of its Guidelines for Operations and Land Stewardship (GOALS) program, which provides guidance for the management of Massachusetts' state forests and parks.

The Harold Parker management plan, drafted with the participation of Andover citizens, addresses the question of adding new cross-country ski trails within the forest, as well as such issues as trail use and management, forest management and cutting, road management, and interpretive programming.

Copies of the draft will be available at the public meeting. Copies are also available at the library, at the town clerk's office, and at Harold Parker State Forest headquarters.

For further information, contact Jonathan Geer, GOALS Planner, at the Department of Environmental Management, Office of Planning and Development, 100 Cambridge St., Boston 02202.

Zoning Bylaw Changes Before Planners

Proposed changes in the zoning laws on hotels and motels, on building height requirements in all zones, and on a rezoning proposal to create a new Shopping Center district on River Road will each be discussed in public hearings before the Planning Board beginning at 8:15 p.m. next Tuesday, Feb. 26, in Memorial Auditorium at the town office building on Bartlet Street.

The planners will hear public comments on a proposal to delete from the zoning bylaw Section V.B.6, which lists special requirements for hotels and motels built outside the General Business District. (In addition to the business district, hotels are allowed by special permit from the Zoning Board in Industrial A and D districts and in the Shopping Center district.)

The board will also hold a hearing on a proposed change in Section V.A. of the zoning bylaw. The new section would specify maximum heights for buildings in every zone by number of feet only; the law currently specifies the number of stories allowed as well as feet.

And they will hear comments on a request to rezone about ten acres of Industrial D land on River Road to Shopping Center zoning. Developers Joseph Hoffman and Irving Winn hope to build a complex of stores and offices on that parcel, which is located across from the Digital site.

At 7:30 Tuesday night, the planners are scheduled to hold a public hearing on a plan proposed by Cedar Homes of Salem, N.H., to build a subdivision off Beacon Street, near Route 495 and the Lawrence line.

DCS Plans Flower Show Trip

The Department of Community Servies will travel to Boston to see the 1985 Spring Flower Show on Sunday, March 10. The show will highlight exhibits excelling in floral presentations and landscape design. Advanced registration is required and is being accepted at the DCS office in Town Hall.

The nearly 140,000 visitors expected to attend this year's show will be treated to one of the most spectacular previews of spring in the history of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. The theme, "Spring's Reflections," highlights the many ways water transforms gardens and landscapes into spectacles of color, sound and activity.

The sound of rushing water (a sure sign of spring) will greet visitors. The source of the fury is a 20-foot high waterfall, one of the largest ever created for the show, cascading through a pine woods. This exhibit offers the unique opportunity of walking behind the fall to view the garden of flowering trees, shrubs and bulbs that surround it.

Ramps leading to an elevated observation deck overlook three gardens, one featuring a two-level pool. The upper pool highlights a fountain display. Exotic koi (colorful Japanese carp) swim amidst flowering waterlilies and other aquatic plants in the pool's lower basin.

Another exhibit holds a dark and mysterious jungle pool that reflects the gnarled, orchid-laden limbs of a fantasy rain forest.

The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc. has chosen "Reflections of Monet" as its theme for the 24 flower arrangements they will display in the show's amateur section. Arrangements by the Garden Club of America will include six miniature arrangements, each no larger than five inches in any dimension.

A series of informational exhibits include ongoing shade-tree maintenance demonstrations, a pesticide-awareness program and a soil-testing clinic that lets showgoers have a cup of their home garden's soil analyzed.

Buses will leave from the rear parking lot of the Town Offices building on Bartlet Street at 12:30 p.m. for the Bayside Exposition Center and will return at approximately 5 p.m. Reservations are limited.

Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy.

Andover Railroading Is Topic

The crowd murmered excitedly. Men squinted and peered into the distance. Children darted about, squealing, until someone shouted, "Quiet! Here it comes!' The low and far-away rumbling became louder and closer. The crowd dropped back, suddenly nervous. It was June 1835. The railroad had come to Andover!

This scene, with many others, will be vividly described in a program of slides and narrative entitled "Andover Railroading" to be presented by Frank Haggerty at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St., Sunday, March 3, at 2:30 p.m.

The presentation will retrace the route of the long-vanished Andover-Wilmington Railroad as it appears today and will describe the role and operation of the railroad from its beginnings in the 1830s until it was replaced in 1847 by the Boston and Maine Railroad. The Boston and Maine will be shown in numerous slides and its history in Andover recounted from the period 1847-1947.

Much of the history of America is the history of railroading. Railroads were a technological advance which thrilled an earlier generation of Americans. Railroads emphatically and permanently altered the course of American history and made possible the rapid conquest of the American continent. Andover was in the forefront of this movement.

The Andover and Wilmington Railroad was planned and financed by prominent Andover citizens such as Amos Blanchard and Abraham Marland, beginning in 1833. It was one of the earliest railroads in the United States and initially extended from a junction in Wilmington with the Boston and Lowell Railroad. Later it was extended through North Andover to Haverhill. With the rise of the mill era, however, a railroad was more urgently needed along the river to service the new mills and the railroad was relocated.

The slides and commentary illustrate both of these railroad routes and provide a fascinating glimpse into Andover's role in the great era of railroads.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit-educational instution open to members and the public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Exhibit Links Northern Industry To Southern Slavery

"Negro Cloth: Northern Industry & Southern Slavery," a look at how New England's textile industry supported and profited from Southern slavery by providing coarse, durable fabrics to clothe the slaves, will open Tuesday, March 5, at the Museum of American Textile History, 800 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover.

"Profits from the slave trade contributed to the financial foundation upon which textile manufacturing was built in the 19th century," says Paul Hudon, associate curator. "This exhibit looks at the relationship between the 'lords of the lash' and the 'lords of the loom.' "

Negro cloth was a generic name for a coarse mixed cotton and woolen cloth produced exclusively for slaves. There were scores of different kinds of fabrics, often sold by the name of the mill. Most popular were kersey, a coarse, rubbed woolen or woolen and cotton cloth with a lustrous, fine nap, and linsey, a strong, coarse, durable fabric of wool yarn woven into linen or cotton yarn.

"Paintings, lithograhs, photographs, fashion plates and carefully preserved garments duly record what the world's wealthy and fashionable people wore. But few sources deal with the clothing of the poor," says Hudon.

The exhibit will combine artifacts used in the production of Negro cloth, actual garments worn by slaves, photographs, contemporary prints, and advertisements, maps and cloth samples.

The cornerstone of the exhibit is a working plantation spinner, a hand-operated machine that ginned, carded, drew and spun coarse cotton yarn that was later woven into clothing by and for slaves. More than 2,500 of these spinners, which made it possible for one slave to do the work of 10, were sold for $130 each in the South and Southwest until 1860.

Other artifacts will include a cotton gin, which has a hand-painted scene of the Alabama factory where it was made, and a weavers' draught book, which showed the weavers of Negro cloth how to set up their looms.

Actual slave clothing, including a vest and trousers used by a field worker, has been borrowed from Shadows-on-the-Teche in New Iberia, La., for the show.

The graphics in the exhibit include photos of slaves at work and in their huts, as well as workers in Rhode Island factories. A slide show will also be included.

A creation of Myron O. Stachiw, formerly a museum intern from the American and New England Studies Program of Boston University, an abbreviated exhibit was first shown in 1981 at the Boston National Historical Park. A version that focused on the involvement of Rhode Island mills in the production of Negro cloth followed at the Rhode Island Historical Soceity. A "flat" version of the exhibit, featuring photographs and drawings, but no artifacts, has been circulated throughout the country by the Smithsonian Institute Traveling Exhibit Service.

"We are proud to have the full exhibit for the first time in the Merrimack Valley," says Hudon.

"There are ideas held by many people, including some historians, that slavery was a local and southern institution and none of 'us white folk up here' had anything to do with it. This exhibit makes the point that this was not the case.

"Many northern manufacturers chose profit over conscience and joined pro-slavery Southerners," says Hudon, adding that "Negro cloth was the major product of many Rhode Island and Massachusetts mills, such as Peace Dale Manufacturing Company of Wakefield, R.I., and Lowell Manufacturing Company of Lowell.

According to Thomas W. Leavitt, director of the Museum of American Textile History, the exhibit was made possible with funding from the Boston African American National Historic Site, the Museum of Afro American History and the National Endowment for the Arts, through the American and New England Studies Program, Boston University. The exhibit is owned by the National Park Service.

"Negro Cloth: Northern Industry & Southern Slavery" will be on view at the Museum of American Textile History

Art Demonstration

The Andovers' Artists Guild held their annual art demostration Sunday in North Andover. Three Guild members created a work of art from scratch while displaying some of their finished products. Fifty-five people ranging from professional artist to curiosity seeker watched in silence or asked the artist at work questions about their masterpiece being created. The two-hour demonstration provided a smorgasborg of art and maybe recruited a few future artists. Photos clockwise from upper left: Surrounded by her art, Cathy Piazza of Lawrence works on an oil painting; Jane Trumbore of Andover works with layers of colored tissue paper to create her image of art; Margo Porter of Andover displays some of her clay figures while creating another; Aaron Bancroft works on his own masterpiece out of clay after observing Margo Porter at work.

Awards $500 To Elder Services

Every day across the Merrimack Valley thousands of employees start their work day preoccupied with some family issue. Whether it's the crying child reluctantly deposited at day care or the elderly parent whose recent fainting spells are worrisome, it's difficult and sometimes impossible for employees to put these concerns on "hold" between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

One year ago an employee of Gould Corporation in Andover, concerned about his elderly mother, sought and received assistance from Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc. The pleased employee expressed his gratitude to Elder Services by recommending to Gould that they consider a contribution to the agency.

As a result, the Gould Foundation rewarded Elder Services with a contribution of $500.

According to Executive Director Rosanne DiStefano, "Preoccupation about older parents can affect job performance and cost companies money." Knowing what options are available in one's community can make a tremendous difference in how a problem is solved.

"The Gould Corporation's generous donation would indicate that we (Elder Services) are successfully meeting the needs of elders and their families."

Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley provides information, services and support to older people whose desire is to remain independent and live in their own homes as long as they possible can.

Gould Inc. is one of a growing number of companies who recognize that dealing with aging parents can be one of the biggest problems that employees face

The 16-year-old Andover facility is a Division of Gould Inc., headquartered in the Chicago area. The programmable control division employees approximately 1,750 people.

On Dean's List

Peter D. Guschov, 3 Lovejoy Road, Andover, a building construction technology major, was named to the Dean's list at Wentwroth Institute of Technology, Boston for the first semester.

Babysitters, Handymen Wanted

The senior center in Andover has received a large number of telephone calls recently from townspeople who are looking for babysitters, house sitters and temporary help of all kinds.

In an effort to be helpful in keeping a record of these calls, two lists will be on hand, one for townspeople who want to hire someone and another for those who are looking for work.. Those looking for work must set up an appointment with Gwen Smith. An application and personal reference are prerequisites to being accepted on a work-wanted list. All financial arrangements will be made between the employer and employee.

Call the senior center on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, if you are looking for temporary work. Gwen Smith, volunteer coordinator, will make an appointment for a personal interview.

ANDOVER BOARD OF HEALTH

AMENDMENTS AND CHANGES TO BOARD OF HEALTH REGULATIONS: "MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR THE SUBSURFACE DISPOSAL OF SANITARY SEWAGE"

Acting in accordance with the provisions of 310. CMR 15.00 Title V. the State Environmental Code, and M.G.L., Chapter 111, Section 31, the following amendments and changes to Town of Andover, Board of Health, "Minimum Requirements For The Subsurface Disposal of Sanitary Sewage", to be made effective immediately, were adopted by unanimous vote of the Board, at a regularly scheduled meeting on February 11, 1985.

Delete existing Section 3.4a and substitute with new Section 3.4a to read:

At least two deep observation holes shall be required per system. One hole shall be located directly in the active leach area and one hole shall be located directly in the reserve area.

Add Section 3.4e to read:

3.4e

All deep holes, as required above, shall be performed during the months of March and April only, and all data including, but not limited to, soil logs, water table elevations and depth to impervious materials, shall be submitted as part of an application for the approval of a Subdivision Definitive Plan. Form "A" lot data shall be submitted as part of the Sanitary Sewage Disposal System application for approval of system design.

Delete existing Section 3.5a and substitute new Section 3.5a to read:

At least one passing percolation test, located directly in the active leach area and one passing percolation test located directly in the reserve area shall be required for each subsurface sewage disposal system. No leach area shall be placed within twenty-five feet of a location where a failing percolation test has been observed or recorded.

Add Section 3.5h to read.

3.5h

All percolation tests as required above shall be performed prior to and submitted as part of the application for approval of a subdivision Definitive Plan. Form "A" Lot percolation data shall be submitted as part of the Sanitary Sewage Disposal System application for approval of system design.

Platinum

Platinum is the world's most precious metal.

Each year the world produces 1,000 tons of gold, 10,000 tons of silver, yet only 85 tons of platinum. In fact, all the platinum recovered from the earth would fill only one living room. Platinum is a very pure metal: for example, a platinum ring is 27 percent purer in precious metal content than a similar ring in 18ct gold, making the platinum ring more

A LifetTime Experience

The highlight of Phillips Academy celebration of its fourth annual Black Arts weekend and a lifetime experience for student musicians was the appearance of the famous jazz great Dizzy Gillespie. Gillespie was in town last weekend with his Quintet to perform at the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center Saturday night but Saturday afternoon he was fulfilling the dreams of student musicians by holding a workshop. For two hours Gillespie listened, critiqued, demonstrated and entertained the students in the jazz bands from Phillips Academy and Andover High School while over 70 people watched in the background. Photos clockwise from upper left: Joyce Stafford, Andover High School student plays for Dizzy; Gillespie observes the drumming of Larry Prestia, Andover High: Gillespie then moves in to make a critique on the positioning of Larry's arm; Larry and Dizzy then share a relaxing moment together and Larry thanks the Jazz great; Gillespie demostrates to the Phillips Academy students how to keep the beat by clapping the hands; Kathy O'Connor moves in as close as she can to get that picture. Dizzy teased Kathy at first by covering his face but allowed Kathy to complete her task; Andover High School Jazz Band plays for Dizzy Gillespie.

Top Award Winners

Day Trip

The Peabody Museum of Salem will conduct a day trip to Manchester, N.H., on Tuesday, March 19.

The tour will include a visit to the Currier Gallery of Art, the Manchester Historical Association, Amoskeag Mills, early mill housing, the home of Gen. John Stark and two homes by Frank Lloyd Wright.

The bus will leave the museum at 9 a.m. and return at 5 p.m. Space is limited and advance reservations are required. Call the education department at the museum.

Quilting Offered

Betty Gomes will conduct a 10-week quilting class at the Andover senior center from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., beginning Friday, March 15.

Traditional handpiecing, applique and basic quilting will be demonstrated. Learn the techniques for making totes, pillows, wall hangings, etc. The course will give class members the opportunity to exchange ideas and form new ones.

Non-Andover residents and people under 60 are welcome. A nonresident and under-age 60 fee is added to the class registration.

The senior is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

On Dean's List

Joanne Jordan of Andover has qualified for the Dean's List at the University of New England for the fall semester. Students must attain a grade point average of at least 3.20 to qualify.

Jordan is a senior in the Division of Physical Therapy.

Units To Study Prisons

The League of Women Voters of Andover is studying the situation in Massachusetts of overcrowded prisons and correctional alternatives for adults. At units scheduled for February 25 and 28, a 30-minute slide/sound show, "A Look at Prisons," features tours of several facilities in the state. Local committee members are Joyce and Willard Robinson, Barbara Worcester and Jean Corley.

League members will be asked to consider when a prison sentence is essential, when alternative solutions are preferred, criminal justice goals that are met when offenders are imprisoned for a long time, expansion of prison space, reintegration of prisoners into the community and correctional services for women.

The noon meeting on February 25 will be at the home of Andy Stevens, 53 School St. Babysitting for this unit will be provided if requested before Sunday, Feb. 24, from Janice Burkholder, 1 Stafford Lane. The February 28 meeting will be at the home of Joanne Marden, 10 Orchard St., at 7:30 p.m.

All interested persons are welcome. Membership is open to men and women of voting age.

Pauline Admitted To Bates

Robert P. Pauline, a senior at Phillips Academy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pauline, 5 Strawberry Hill Road, Andover, has been admitted to Bates College under its early decision program.

Early Decision applicants are students who have decided that Bates is their first-choice college. Upon acceptance, they agree to withdraw all applications to other institutions.

Among the advantages is that students who indicate a strong desire to attend Bates, by submitting their application and credentials early, will receive special consideration in the evaluation process, according to the college's admissions office.

Furthermore, it is the college's policy to meet the full financial need, as determined by its financial aid office, of students admitted under the Early Decision plan.

Elderly Discuss Issues

The February Chapter meeting of LANAM LIFE was held at Academy Manor Nursing Home on February 15. Residents from Stevens Hall in North Andover, German Old Folks Home in Lawrence and Mary Immaculate in Lawrence also attended.

Elderly legislative issues were discussed. Residents from German Old Folks Home plan to attend the Human Services and Elderly Affairs Joint Committee hearings on Thursday, Feb. 21, at the State House.

The LIFE video was shown to the 40 residents who gathered for the meeting. Valentine cookies and cupcakes were served while several sixth grade students from West Elementary School visited the residents and gave them each a valentine. Mr. French played the accordian and George Knipe led a sing-a-long.

Other recent chapter events included a presentation introducing the LIFE program to the Friendly Seniors Club of North Andover. The LIFE video tape was shown, courtesy of Howard Hamilton from Movies and More who provided the TV set and tape equipment. A discussion period followed with Katherine Gordon, the LANAM LIFE president, giving an insiders view of life in a nursing home and her thoughts about how the LIFE program improves the lives of all nursing home residents.

Katherine Prescott, the LANAM LIFE director, is seeking volunteers to assist her in program planning. She can be contacted at Town Hall.

Craft Classes At Center

Registration is underway for three new craft classes at the Andover senior center: Oriental rug design, knitting and crocheting and calligraphy.

Oriental rug design, with Annette Chetti, meets on Thursdays for 10 weeks, beginning March 7, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Punch needle method will use 100 percent three-ply wool. Individual patterns and colors can be purchased from the instructor.

Shirley Sheehan teaches knitting and crocheting on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Bring a pattern and learn the basic or more complex stitches.

Calligraphy, with Judge Joseph Vinciguerra, will meet on Mondays from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. for 10 weeks, beginning March 4. Learn to make Valentine, Easter, Christmas, wedding and other special occasion cards. The course will include a series of exercises and demonstrations to teach the basic skills in the formation and completion of the printed letter in Olde English and italic. Supply kit may be purchased from instructor at first class.

Non-Andover residents and people under 60 are welcome. A non-resident and under-60 fee is added to the class registration.

Awarded University Grant

Irving Gershenberg of Lowell Street, Andover, has been awarded a grant by UMass/Boston's Institute for the Study of Black Culture. He is one of 21 people who received awards ranging from $1,800 to $5,000.

The proposals address public policy concerns of the black commuity or further research in Black Studies as a discipline, according to Dr. Edward Strickland, chairman of the Black Task Force.

Gershenberg will perform a study of assisting minority-owned businesses to engage in international trade

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Gas vs. Electricity

When planning a kitchen's energy systems, and if a choice is possible in your locale, the decision must be made as to whether an all-electric or partially gas energy source is preferred. Dedicated cooks tend to favor gas-fired stoves. They instantly get just the amount of heat desired. It also can be better controlled because the flame is visible. Electric ovens, on the other hand, produce constant, even heat, the type of heat generated by brick ovens in the early part of the century. Gas is usually cheaper. Electricity is safer. Because each energy type has its advantages, many cooks compromise on their choice and get both. They use gas for the cooktop stove and electricity for the oven.

When you decide to remode your kitchen be sure to get exactly what you want both in appliances and cabinets. Here at Windsor Kitchens we give you the ideal kitchen to suit your way of living and to best accommodate the size of your room. Our kitchen designers will create an original kitchen with the finest materials. Your new room will be modern, glamorous and one in which you'll be happy to work in and entertain. Stop in at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill to discuss the many possibilities available to you. Mon-Thurs. 9-5:30; Fri. til 8; Sat. til 2. Tel. 372-3444

Chinese Welcome New Year

Area Chinese welcomed the Year of the Ox at a luncheon held Sunday, Feb 17, at the Andover Jade. The Andover Chinese-Cultural Exchange (ACE) gathered 125 people together for festivities that included Chinese songs, games and the traditional passing out of "hung bow," red envelopes.

The children of ACE members formed a circle to sing a Chinese song expressing the joy of getting together. With equal clarity and expression, they then recited a Chinese poem describing New Year activities. The program was arranged by Linda Shen with the help of Alice Chiranakhon and Diana Kung.

The highlight of the afternoon came when all the children lined up to receive a "hung bow" from an elder. This year grandparents Han-Chin and Jeanne Loh of Bailey Road, Andover, passed out two 50-cent pieces in red envelopes to each child. Since two is a lucky number, this gift was meant to bring good luck and prosperity in the coming year.

Special guests came from Phillips Academy: Mrs. Shiao-Min N. exchange scholar from China, and Shaio-Ming Chu and Yan-Tao Jia, exchange students. Other guests were Pastor Morely Lee and his wife, Sophie, from the Chinese Bible Church of Greater Boston.

Photos clockwise from upper left: Linda Shen conducts the children in a song as they entertain the guests; displaying the cakes made for the party are the officers for A.C.E., Diane Kung, treasurer, Everlyn Kuo, secretary, and Elsie Wu, education committee chairman.

Spring Flower Show

Mrs. Richard Bucher, left, of Andover and Mrs. Dean Swan of the Amateur Horticulture Committee of The Massachusetts Horticultural Society review the floor plan of the 1985 New England Spring Flower Show to be held March 9-17 at the Bayside Exposition Center in Boston. The amateur horticulture section is open to all gardeners wishing to enter a favorite plant for judging.

Support Groups Offered In March

"Women in the Workplace," a women's support group focusing on such problems, will be offered by Andover Psychological Services beginning in March.

A second women's support group, also beginning in March, "Women's Self-Development," primarily for women who are not currently working, will emphasize women's development of their own identities, especially in terms of considering returning to work or school after being housewives and mothers.

Both groups are open to women of all ages and will run for six weeks.

Sugaring Off

The Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary in Topsfield will conduct its annual sugaring off tours on the weekends of March 2-3, 9-10 and 16-17. Saturday tours are at 10 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.; Sunday tours are at 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. only.

Reservations are required and can be made by calling the sanctuary office between 9 a.m. and noon, Tuesday through Friday.

Tours consist of a visit to the trees, with guided talks on how to sap, sap flow, tree identification and a taste of maple syrup. A concession stand will sell maple products, sugaring off equipment, hot drinks, donuts and maple-cooked hot dogs.

Paro-Kilgour

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas S. Kilgour

Lynne Paro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen K. Paro of 4 Serenity Lane, Andover, was married to Douglas Scot Kilgour, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Kilgour of 7 Railroad Ave., Rowley, on Sept. 8, 1984, at the First Congregational Church of Rowley.

The Rev. Harry G. Myers of Rowley officiated at the six-thirty o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a silk gown fashioned with a rounded bodice with appliques of Venice lace, bishop sleeves, a fitted waist highlighted with appliques of Venice lace, and a pleated watteau cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a cap decorated with lace appliques, sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade of Boston ferns with white chrysanthemums and carnations and pink roses.

Janice Fernekees of Salem, N.H., was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kimberly Paro of Lawrence and Heather Paro of Andover, the bride's sisters; and Terry Conway of Hampton, N.H. They wore gowns of chiffon over taffeta, the maid of honor in dusty rose and the bridesmaids in pink, styled with sweetheart neckline, a ruffle over the shoulder and pleated waist with a sash tied in a bow at the back. They wore baby's breath in their hair, and each carried seven long-stemmed roses tied with a ribbon matching her gown.

Douglas Meurer of Amesbury was the groom's best man. Ushers were Robert Kilgour of Rowley, the groom's brother; James Potts of Amesbury and Cory Conway of Hampton, N.H.

The altar was decorated with candelabras and a bouquet of daisies, white carnations, pink roses, snapdragons and baby's breath. The church was decorated with two matching bouquets. Songs played during the ceremony were "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a dress of lilac silk, styled with a V neckline, empire waist, pleated skirt and an attached chiffon cape with a crystal brooch. She wore baby's breath in her hair, and a white orchid wrist corsage.

The groom's mother chose a sleeveless aqua dress styled with an empire waist and highlighted with lace, and a matching long-sleeved jacket. She wore a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath.

A reception was held at the Hellentic Center, Ipswich. Out-of-town guests included Mark Paro, the bride's brother, who is stationed in Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knuehl of Kentucky; and Mrs. Beatrice Grenier of Arizona.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Andover High School and a 1984 graduate of Northern Essex Community College. She is a Past Worthy Advisor and Majority from the Andover Assembly, Rainbow for Girls. She is employed as a kindergarten teacher at the Children's Garden Development Center of Lawrence.

Her husband is a 1980 graduate of Triton Vocational School, Byfield, and he attended New Hampshire Vocational College as well. He is employed as a tool and die maker at the Gould Shawmut in Newburyport. He attended the Newburyport Chapter of DeMolay.

Following a wedding trip to the Poconos Mountains, Pennsylvania, and Niagra Falls, the couple is residing in Amesbury.

Exhibit

"Good Cooking," late 19th century kitchen exhibit based on "The American Woman's Home," written by Catharine Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe in 1869, will be at the North Andover Historical Society, 153 Academy Road at Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover, through April 15. Hours are from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday and Tuesday and from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

Quilters

The February meeting of the Merrimack Valley Quilters will be held Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7 p.m. at the Universalist-Unitarian Church, 15 Kenoza Avenue, Haverhill.

Slides will be shown on the fourth annual Houston Fabrics Clothing Show. Sandra Hatch, editor of "Quilt World Omnibook' and "Women's Circle Counted Cross-Stitch and Candlewicking," will bring samples of quilts which have appeared in her magazine.

Shamrock Shebang Planned

The Ladies of Merrimack extend "100 thousand welcomes" to a Shamrock Shebang.

Doris McGovern, Nancy Norbedo and Gerry Stella are chairmen of the St. Patrick's Day festivity to be held at the Christian Formation Center, Andover, on Friday, March 15. Cocktails at 7 p.m. will be followed by a corned beef dinner at 8 p.m.

The highlight of the evening promises to be The Ed, Bill and Bo Winiker Orchestra, a swing band that recaptures the sound of the big band era. In September 1977, The Winiker Orchestras started an indefinite run at "The Last Hurrah" room of the Parker House hotel in downtown Boston. They have extended their musical magic to the whole country.

Patrons may be assured that shamrocks, leprechauns and surprises will abound thanks to the talented Barbara Quinn, chairman of decorations.

Contact the Merrimack College development office or any member of the committee for reservations. The committee includes Ann Royal, president and honorary chairman; Fran Graham, Ann Marie Nahill, Rita Dowd, Elaine Burke, Elsie Caleri, Angela Chiara, Joan Cranton, Fran DeMarco, Delores DeNapoli, Rose DiPaolo, Milly DiSalvo, Eileen Donovan, Marie Dow, Mary Heimann, Bette Jaffe, Gloria Kirsh, Lillian Lafond, Maureen Lanigan, Agnes McDonald, Judy Morrison, Alice Murray, Marcia Newcomb, Vivian Pangione, Adeline Phillips, Bernice Rothsei, Gladys Sakowich, Anne Lacourse, Kathleen Scalise, Jo Uszynski, Gail Winning and Kay Yameen.

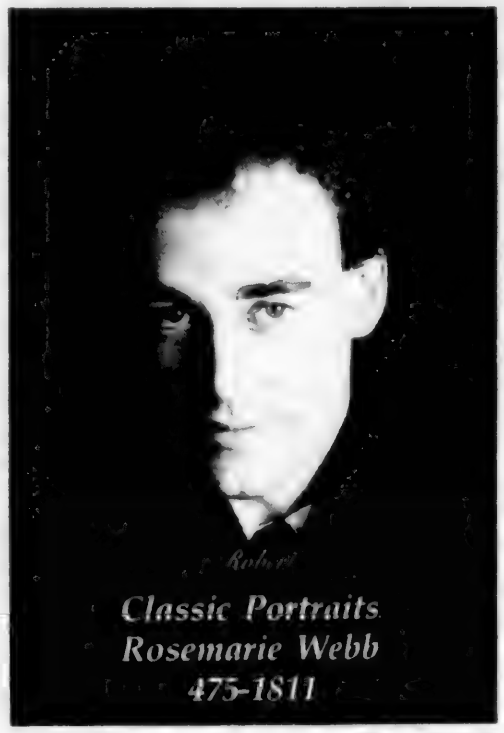

All proceeds will benefit the McQuade Library at Merrimack College and the Ladies of Merrimack Scholarship Fund for deserving students.

Boating Course

A basic Boating Skills and Seamanship course is being offered by the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 1-303 at the University of Lowell for 10 weeks on Mondays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Topics will include instruction in safe boat handling, rules of the road, marlinspike seamanship and piloting.

Registration will be held at Dugin Hall, South Campus, University of Lowell on February 27 and 28 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

To Observe Feast Of Purim

Purim is based on the legendary story of the Book of Esther. King Ahasuerus of Persia has discharged his queen for disobedience. Looking for a new queen, he holds a beauty contest and Esther wins the crown. She has not revealed that she is a Jew and ward of the wise man, Mordecai, who remains her advisor and sits in the outer court of the palace to be near her. There he overhears a plot to assassinate the king, reports it, the culprits are hanged and the event duly recorded in the royal chronicle. The king appoints a new vizir, Haman, who immediately commands everyone to prostrate himself before him. Mordecai refuses, since he will bow down only to God. Haman broods revenge, not only on Mordecai, who is too small for him, but on all Jews. He tells the king that a subversive group needs wiping out for the good of the country and Ahasuerus, without asking questions, grants him the right. The 13th day of Adar is chosen by lot to be extermination day. The term for lot is Pur, hence the name Purim. Mordecai requests Esther to see the king immediately. To enter the king's chambers without being summoned means death, but Esther is willing to sacrifice herself. The king receives her graciously, accepts her invitation to dine with her and to bring Haman with him and agrees to dine with her a second night and bring Haman again. After the first dinner he cannot sleep, so he has the chronicle read to him, learns of Mordecai, who has saved his life and received no reward, and appoints Haman to lead Mordecai in procession through the City of Sousa. Esther reveals Haman's plot to the king and tells him that she is Jewish too. Haman is hanged, Mordecai made vizir and the Jews are saved.

The events described in the biblical Book of Esther probably occurred in the Persian Empire in the fifth century before the Common Era. Purim is a joyous holiday and is permeated with hilarity, humor and song. A special three-cornered pastry, "Hamantashen," filled with poppy seeds or prune lekvar, is the food associated with this festival.

Purim begins Wednesday night, March 6, and is celebrated throughout the day on March 7. There will be a special service for families at Temple Emanuel Wednesday at 7 p.m. The reading of the Scroll of Esther, the biblical book wherein the Purim story is told, will be read and children and adults will be provided with the traditional graggers or noise makers to drum out the name of Haman each time it is read. Religious school classes on Wednesday afternoon will be cancelled so that all families with children may be able to celebrate the Purim Service that evening.

The Purim Service at Temple Emanuel on Haggetts Pond Road is open to unaffiliated Jewish families as well. Following the service, in which members of the TEMTY Youth Group will participate, there will be refreshments for all.

Over 200 million tons of dirt and rock were dug up to build the Panama Canal.

Homelessness Lenten Topic

West Parish Church, 129 Reservation Road, Andover, will explore the issue of "Housing and Homelessness" as part of its second annual Lent event on the first Sunday in Lent, Feb. 24, at 9 a.m. During the hour session, three options are available for interested adults: Bible study in the book of Isaiah, led by the Rev. Frederick Pease; a film, "Shoping Bag Lady," with discussion led by Senior Minister Graham L.N. Ward; and a speaker's forum featuring James Carey, deputy director of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency. Carey, a Newburyport resident with city planning experience, carries responsibilities for the agency's private housing.

An 8:30 a.m. family breakfast and the 10 a.m. worship service complete the morning. Child care is available. Sunday school will be held its regular time during the worship hour.

For further information, contact the church office between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Lenten Service Tuesday

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church and United Church of Christ), Andover, will have its first Lenten service on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. This year's theme is "The Disciples of Jesus." The Rev. Paul Woodbury, pastor of Mt. Bellingham United Methodist Church, Chelsea, will share some slides from his recent trip to the Holy Land. The service will feature hymnas, prayers, a meditation on the biblical text and the Eucharist.

To Welcome Scouts

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church and United Church of Christ), Andover, will mark the first Sunday in Lent with a Service of the Word at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor, will have "A New Beginning, based on Genesis 9:8-17 and the Gospel according to Mark 1:9-15 from the Ecumenical Common Lectionary, as his Lenten message.

The congregation will welcome boy scouts and leaders of Troop 56, which is sponsored by the Ballard Vale United Church. American Boy Scouts are celebrating their 75th birthday. Members of the troop will serve as ushers, readers and servers.

Memorial Hall Library

Computers In The Spotlight

Memorial Hall Library has a Panasonic Portable Computer available for loan to patrons. Adult residents with a valid library card may borrow the computer for three days and two nights for a fee of $15. This "Sr. Partner" computer has a built-in printer 16-bit CPU, 128K RAM and IBM compatability. Several software packages are also available.

Patrons will discover that a public keyboard terminal has been added to the public access touch terminals in the main reading room. Searches of the library's holdings, plus the holdings of other libraries in the Merrimack Valley Consortium, are easily accessed by simple keyboard commands. All of Memorial Hall Library's books, records, videocasettes, community information records, etc. have been entered into the database.

"Topaze"

On Friday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. Memorial Hall Library's Foreign Film Festival will show the French film, "Topaze." This 1938 film, subtitled in English and directed by Marcel Pagnol, portrays a naive schoolteacher who becomes a pawn in a wealthy baron's get-rich-quick scheme. The movie is open to the public at no charge.

Great Books Discussion

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library to discuss Dostoyevsky's "Notes from Underground." All sessions are open to the public and newcomers are welcome.

Portrait Of The Earth

A 12-part series, "The Living Planet, a Portrait of Earth," is appearing on PBS-TV. Each of the great environmental regions of the world is examined to see how animals and plants have colonized, not only the most fertile but even the most hostile of environments. Weekly displays at Memorial Hall Library coordinate with each week's program topic. Books about the jungle are featured this week and seas of grass begins February 25.

Children's Room News

Registration for Littlest Listeners, story hour for preschoolers ages 3½-5 years, begins Monday, Feb. 25. Parents may sign up for Tuesday or Wednesday mornings or Thursday afternoons.

Quainton To Speak

Anthony C.E. Quainton, Ambassador to Kuwait, will address Phillips Academy students, faculty and guests on "Freedom, Justice and Revolution: Dilemmas for U.S. Policy" on Sunday, Feb. 24. The lecture, the last in a series of the 1985 Headmaster's Symposium entitled "The Americas: A Dialogue North and South," will take place in Cochran Chapel at 8 p.m. and is free and open to the public.

Quainton, an alumnus of Phillips Academy, was named Ambassador to the Central African Empire in 1976 where he served until 1978. Following a position as director of the Department of State's Office for Combatting Terrorism, Quainton was named Ambassador to Nicaragua from March 1982 until May 1984. Last July, President Reagan named him the Ambassador to Kuwait.

Cause Of Fire Was Electrical

It was an electrical malfunction in the attic which started the fire that left a Poor Street family without a home last week, according to an Andover Fire Department report.

Deputy Fire Chief Robert Bousch told THE TOWNSMAN that a department investigation into the Sunday, Feb. 3, blaze concluded the fire was accidental. An independent investigation by the Mutual Insurance Company confirmed that finding, Bousch said.

William and Martina Miller weren't at their 60 Poor St. home when the fire broke out. Fire records indicate extensive damage to the property as the blaze burned off the roof and completely gutted the second floor. The first floor suffered fire, heat, water and smoke damage. Andover resident James Barenboim, 43 Oriole Drive, owns the Poor Street property.

AMC Aids Campaign

Local participants in the Appalachian Mountain Club voted to donate $1,000 to the Boston Appalachian Mountain's $11 million capital campaign.

The funds will be presented at the local chapter's "Old Man of the Mountains" slide show set for Thursday, April 11, at 7:30 p.m., at the Doherty Junior High School Memorial Auditorium, Bartlet Street.

The Andover chapter hopes to raise the $1,000 at their slide show, which will feature photos taken from helicopter by Brian K. Fowler.

Tickets for the show are available at Moor and Mountain, 68 Park St.

Sidewalk, Bridge Repair Get Scrapped In Favor Of Snow

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Every year, according to the Public Works director, some Andover sidewalks and bridges are not repaired because money that might have been spent on that work is instead spent on cleaning up after snow storms.

This year's Public Works budget repeats that pattern, Director Robert McQuade told the Board of Selectmen last week, with $27,000 budgeted for one account for which McQuade had requested $52,000.

Looking at the contractual services account for the $1.1 million highway department budget last Monday night, McQuade said, "Every year this is the account that suffers because of the annual overrun in snow and ice (removal)." In addition, when there are overruns in the budget for road repairs, "this account gets held," he said.

The town manager's cut in the director's highway request will mean that 300 feet of sidewalks will not be repaired, McQuade said, and no bridges will be repaired. He had hoped to repair 480 feet of sidewalks, and to repair bridges at Stevens, Central, Balmoral, Haverhill and Andover streets.

Finance and Budget Director Anthony Torrisi told the selectmen he hoped to avoid deficits in the snow removal account next year — the current deficit is $150,000, he said — by budgeting that account at a more "realistic figure" than in the past.

The manager's proposed Fiscal 1986 budget includes $250,000 for hiring snow equipment, contrasted to $190,000 in the current Fiscal 1985 budget.

Torrisi added that the new budget also "emphasizes" road repair, boosting the Fiscal '85 figure of $200,000 for highway department operating supplies up to $237,700.

The DPW director found that number inadequate, however, pointing to his request for $337,700. Like the contractual services account, the road repair account also "gets chopped every year," McQuade said, "hampering" his efforts to improve the condition of town roadways.

Selectmen Chairman Donn Byrne agreed that Andover roads are "still going downhill," because road maintenance accounts have been underfunded for years.

Torrisi said this year's recommendation represents "a start" toward road improvements, and Town Manager Kenneth Mahony promised that his Fiscal 1987 budget will "try to make it up — I'm planning on it."

McQuade was also unhappy about a $4,000 cut in wages for seasonal help; he had hoped that money would fund 20 weeks of part-time labor during warm-weather months.

The manager, who cut that request to zero, said he supported the need for seasonal help, but could not find the money to pay for it. (However, funds might yet be available if current vacancies on the DPW staff remain unfilled, he noted.)

Mahony has recommended a total DPW budget of $4.2 million for Fiscal 1986. (The current Fiscal '85 DPW budget is $3.6 million.) In addition to the manager's cuts in the highway department, McQuade also found fault with reductions in the manager's $672,700 budget for the solid waste division: The director had requested $800,600.

McQuade predicted that Mahony's allowance for using the new solid waste disposal facility in North Andover next year would fall at least $60,000 short. Mahony budgeted $600,000 for that service, while the director had requested $718,000. (The fee charged to the town will be based on the weight of its trash, he explained.)

The manager also cut overtime wages from McQuade's recommended $11,900 to $9,000. As a result, the director said, the town landfill will no longer be open after 3:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, will now be closed on three holidays (Patriots, Columbus and Veterans days), and will have two weeks cut from its schedule as well. (The landfill has been open March through November, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and noon to 5 p.m. Wednesdays.)

The remaining DPW division budgets reviewed by the selectmen last week included $88,815 for department administration; $1.2 million for the water department, $190,000 for street lighting, and $134,040 for engineering. Costs in the sewer department are covered by user fees, McQuade noted.

The selectmen last week also briefly reviewed the $2 million Fire Department budget (currently budgeted at $1.8 million for Fiscal 1985), and the $2.3 million Police Department budget (now budgeted at $2 million).

Four new firefighters will be added to the Fire Department this year, with their salaries representing $75,524 of the total $1.9 million for salaries: two will be hired in July and two in January.

Noting that no new firefighters were hired during the last two fiscal years, Mahony said he would "catch up" on his plans to increase the firefighting staff each year by hiring four more people during Fiscal 1987.

The Police staff will be increased by five new officers: their salaries will cost $95,805 of the total $1.3 million for police salaries.

Chief James Johnson had also asked for $114,510 to replace a number of police vehicles, including nine cruisers, one pick-up and one Jeep. The manager cut that number to $60,000 by holding onto five one-year-old cruisers for another year; improved vehicle maintenance made that savings possible, he told the selectmen.

The Police Department budget also includes $212,261 for Central Dispatching, $30,732 for Animal Control, and $3,035 for the Emergency division.

The selectmen have now completed their first review of budgets for all town departments in the total town operating budget of $11.89 million. They will take a second look at some accounts before making their recommendations to annual town meeting in April.

Andover's Fiscal 1986 budget, as recommended by the town manager, totals $36.35 million, including an operating budget of $15.94 million for the school department.

Recommend Lowell St. Lots Remain In Residential Status

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Four residential lots on Lowell Street should remain residential, in the opinion of the Community Development and Planning Staff, and should not be rezoned for business use, staff planner Nancy Jeton said this week.

A group of townspeople led by Philip Nardone of Will-O-Way will ask annual town meeting to rezone the four lots, which total 8.35 acres, from Single Residence C to General Business zoning.

The site is located directly across from the main entrance to the Raytheon plant on Lowell Street (Route 133), Jeton said.

Jeton spoke on the private rezoning article Tuesday night during a brief but well-attended public hearing before the Planning Board. Nardone was not present.

(Jeton explained that the petitioner had asked to postpone the hearing because he needed more time to complete engineering studies on the site. When the planner told him she could not postpone the hearing, he informed her by letter Tuesday afternoon that he would not appear at the hearing.

(Jeton said she could not postpone the hearing because it had been legally advertised for Feb. 19; the planning board could have continued the hearing to a later date, she added, but that would have been the board's decision, not hers.)

The Community Development staff has concluded that it would be "inappropriate" to rezone the Lowell Street property for business use, the planner reported, for three reasons: its proximity to the town water supply, traffic volume, and lack of sewer service.

The site is located within the Haggetts Pond watershed, she explained, noting that the rear lot lines of the parcel are less than 1,000 feet from the pond. Protecting the town water supply is one of Andover's highest priorities, she said, and allowing "an increased rate of development" on the site in question would run "counter to that goal."

Jeton also noted that adding business traffic to the area, located just beyond the Route 93 access ramp, could endanger "public safety." Raytheon and the neighboring Internal Revenue Service, also on Lowell Street, are Andover's largest employers, and already generate "a heavy volume of traffic" during rush hours, she said.

Finally, there are no sewer lines serving the site, Jeton said, and a large septic system could not be built on a site located so close to Haggetts Pond. She concluded that the site is "appropriately zoned" as Single Residence C.

Two town officials briefly echoed her opinion. Virginia Hammond of the Conservation Commission said the commission was opposed to business or industrial use at the site, while Public Works Director Robert McQuade said he "urgently recommended" disapproval of the rezoning proposal, to protect the watershed.

Townspeople at the hearing offered no comments for or against the article, but applauded Jeton's report.

A two-thirds vote of annual town meeting, which will convene April 1, would be needed to approve the rezoning request.

Earlier Tuesday night, Planning Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw explained that two unrelated Lowell Street zoning articles had been withdrawn from the warrant.

Public hearings had been scheduled on private warrant articles proposed by developer Yvon Cormier to rezone the two parcels from SRC to Industrial A zoning; those parcels are located near the Tewksbury town line.

Skiers Have Winning Record

Although the Andover Ski Club, Buddy Werner League was defeated by Nashoba Ski Club, 230-217, in their last meet at Bradford Ski Hill, they managed to maintain a winning record of 4-2 for the season. A total of 107 boys and girls make up the five age groups; 7 & under, 8 & 9, 10 & 11, 12 & 13 and 14 & over that makes this Andover team that is associated with the Buddy Werner League and the United States Ski Association. Photos clockwise from upper left: Scott Kriz placed ninth in the 8 & 9 year old's race; Brian Mcintire and Brian Duffy hang onto the ski lift pole for the ride to the top of the hill; With eyes closed, Hillary Recesso crosses the finish line to place third in 10 & 11 years old's race; Scott Roen came in fifth in the 10 & 11 years old's race; Amy Heseltine, a first place winner in the 10 & 11 age group, watches her teammates compete; Rhett Bachner uses the ski mask to keep his face warm when racing; George Heseltine captures the day of racing on film; Heather Read crosses the line in eighth place, 10 & 11 group; David Poulo uses his poles to gain speed. He placed seventh in the 8 & 9 age group; Kerry Grieco, tenth place, 10 & 11, poles her way to the finish line; Mass production of skiers head for the top at Bradford Ski Hill.

Gilded Management

Through the courtesy of state funding, Andover will soon have another management position to fill, a personnel director for both the town and school departments.

A $34,000 grant was awarded through the state Incentive Aid Program which will partially fund the position, the town underwriting the remainder of whatever the salary is to be.

The personnel manager will oversee employees on both the town and school payrolls as well as handle negotiations with the various unions representing the employees.

Andover administrators are, of course, elated with the funding of this position.

But, frankly, the necessity of yet another peg in the town's administrative chart seems questionable.

It is sold, of course, on the idea that state funding is assisting in the cost of this position, thus not that much involvement from local taxpayers.

State funds, however, are paid by local taxpayers, which simply means we're paying for this position out of the right pocket, rather than the left.

Too, and more importantly, the state funding is for only three years, which means that the town will have to pick up the total cost at the end of that period.

And, municipal positions at this level are never abolished.

One can go back to the temporary institution of an assistant town manager which was brought on by a federal funding program designed to assist unemployed professional persons during a particularly difficult time in the high tech industry several years ago.

Not only did the temporary nature of the position vanish, but there are now additional assistants, or administrators, overseeing municipal functions.

When Proposition 2½ impacted municipal financial planning it was not the administrative staff which suffered, it was the street department laborer, the clerk, the teacher, or putting it simply, the persons closest to serving the public's needs who were dismissed.

Negotiating labor contracts is a time-consuming but necessary part of municipal management these days. But, it is a necessary part of the job of being an administrator or department head. If the task becomes too unwieldy, then professional services can be retained.

While Andover does have a large number of municipal personnel, it would seem that with the number of department heads and administrators already on board, control over municipal workers should be a rather easy task.

The position is now on the books and for a three-year-period which should allow for a good evaluation of its worth and need.

At that time, it is suggested that an examination be made of the need for this additional peg on the administrative structure board at the sacrifice of a dart toward the teaching, labor or clerical staffs.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February 1910

Franklin Stacey, the local pharmacist, has placed outside his drug store a new mortar and pestle, which adds decidedly to the front of the store.

A new sign which can be easily read has been placed over the door of the post office. This is a much-needed improvement, and one that renders unnecessary the frequent inquiries of strangers in regard to the location of the office.

Word has reached here of the safe arrival of William H. Foster in Panama, where he is busy gathering material for future work. He is enjoying his trip very much, although the weather there is excessively warm.

Closing a twenty years' service as superintendent of the water and sewer systems of Andover on March 5, John E. Smith will at once take up the duties of a new and important position, just created at the constantly growing plant of the Tyer Rubber Company. Mr. Smith will have charge of the machinery and power of the entire plant.

Town Clerk Abraham Marland is in attendance at a hearing today before the Probate court at Salem with regard to the disposition of the Punchard funds. It will be recalled that the Townsman stated some time ago that there was available for a children's hospital quite a good-sized sum of money as the residue of the estate of Benjamin F. Punchard, the founder of the Punchard school. Some of those most interested in the Home for Aged think this money should be available for that institution. The hearing before the Probate court judge will probably settle the matter.

50 Years Ago — February 1935

The Andover planning commission, which will present a proposed zoning by-law for the annual town meeting to act upon, has been busy since the last special meeting in making the voters thoroughly informed on just what the purpose of the by-law is. They have pointed out that the purpose of the zoning is to "put the right building in the right place." They stated that there was a natural resentful action to "restrictions," but that the whole purpose, in brief, of the by-law is "to protect your home, your community, your town, and to plan for future development. No home-owner is to be hurt," they declared.

Bids for leasing a postal station at Shawsheen village are now being received by Post Office Inspector J.W. Hunt of Boston. The present office is in the insurance building, but the lease is

The Public Forum

Not One-Issue

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Lest I should become known as a one-issue citizen of the Town of Andover, please let me respond to the item entitled "A Question of Propriety" which appeared on page 42 of the February 14 issue of the TOWNSMAN.

Needless to say, I do not object to the thorough airing of the scandalous Whispering Pine Drive matter, but to infer that all of the seven articles that allegedly will "not make it onto the warrant" are Whispering Pine Drive related is not quite true.

In particular, the two submitted articles that would censure certain town officials have absolutely nothing to do with the Whispering Pines matter. One of these would address the outrageous performance by the Selectmen, Planning Board and Moderator at the end of last year's annual meeting when they deliberately circumvented the normal, lawful street acceptance procedures by ramrodding the en masse acceptance of nine streets that had no business being included in the warrant at all. The other "censure" article would take the Selectmen to task for neglecting and/or refusing to produce an updated comprehensive plan for the Town of Andover in compliance with the article that they, themselves, submitted to the voters at the annual meeting of 1982.

Of the five other articles submitted by my 13 co-signatories and myself, which appear to have been refused, deleted, excluded or otherwise "ruled off" the warrant by the Selectmen, only one can be said to relate to Whispering Pine Drive at all, and even that seeks to address the unlawful action by the Essex County Commissioners in overruling the 1981 town meeting vote, rather than the acceptance or non-acceptance of Whispering Pine Drive, per se.

May I respectfully suggest that one should not always read Whispering Pine Drive connotations into my activities as I exercise my rights and duties as a citizen of the Town of Andover.

Floyd MacDonald of Woburn street, a regular employee of the Board of Public Works, while employed in the Barbarian and Collins gravel pit just off Andover street. Ballardvale, received a broken leg Tuesday afternoon when the hangover on top of the pit gave way. He was removed to the Lawrence General hospital where he will be confined for several weeks before being removed to his home.

Anyone get a whiff of their glass of water, or stop to taste it recently? If you haven't, don't. Bad as it has been in some sections, however, the advice of Water Supt. Donald Bassett is that it won't hurt anyone or anything. Bassett explained this week that the nasty-tasting water is more or less disagreeable, depending on how far along the supply system one is from Haggetts Pond. A winter-growing algae is causing the taste, and is being treated in conformity with expert advice from the state department of public health. Bassett said that an infestation of algae of this type more or less logically follows a heavy amount of summer algae, such as Andover experienced last year.

The town is awaiting a report from the state Department of Public Works on the request for a change in plans on Route 110 in Shawsheen. The alteration involves placing part of the highway on "stilts" to provide an underpass into an industrial area in Andover and Lawrence owned by the Champy Construction Co.

A host of parents turned out at the School Committee's special budget session last night to protest the dropping of hockey, only to find out that the School Committee didn't plan to at all. The possibility had been mentioned by Athletic Director Richard Swift, after he was told to trim the student body account by some $30,000. Tuesday night, however, the committee indicated it had no desire to do away with hockey, and ordered Swift to trim the overall account without dropping any programs and report back.

• The granting of the one liquor license that's up for grabs in town was postponed by the Selectmen Monday night largely because of a legal technicality. The question of whether or not the applicant must have a lease-hold on the property for which he's seeking the license, arose after the three applicants — S. Joseph Hoffman, Arthur A. Collins, and Phillip G. Pizzano — had stated their cases. Hoffman and Collins both proposed to open up discount, supermarket-style operations in the north side of the old Woodworth Building at Shawsheen Plaza. Pizzano, however, seeks to upgrade his wine and beer-only license to a full liquor license, at his present location a parking lot away from the other site, at the rear of 211 North Main St.

A federally-funded program to spruce up some 50 senior citizens' homes in the downtown area, was given the nod by the Andover Board of Selectmen Monday night.

Ski Team Cops Title

With the girls undefeated and the boys losing only one meet in regular season, the Andover High ski team went on to take the championship at the league's Interscholastic Race last week at Bradford Ski Hill. Placing first for the boys was junior Rob Carpentier and first for the girls, sophomore Cheryl Crawford. Also placing for Andover and contributing to their win was: Amy Moynihan and Tom Sutton, both placing fourth, Bruce Crawford, seventh, Brenda Busta and Rob Thompson, ninth. The race consisted of the best eight boy and girl skiers from eight schools in the area league. Next week the Warriors will send six of their best skiers -Rob Carpentier, Bruce Crawford, Tom Sutton, Cheryl Crawford, Amy Moynihan and Jennifer Gagnon - to compete against all the high schools in the state at the Berkshires in the state ski meet. Picked as official time keepers for their team are captains Kristen Thompson and Mark Asgeirsson. They will also travel to the Berkshires. Three Teams Vie For Top

By Jim Arnold

Ballardvale United narrowed the first-place field to three by beating St. Robert's B 15-3 in last week's Andover Church Basketball League Junior Division action.

St. Robert's B had occupied the league's pole position since opening night, but two consecutive losses have dimmed the team's title prospects.

St. Augustine's A decisioned South 14-10 while St. Augustine's C defeated St. Augustine's E 15-2.

Ballardvale, 15-3

Ballardvale raced to an 11-1 halftime advantage and never looked back

Colin Arsenault collected seven points in the opening half while Wendy Darling and Erinne Sullivan connected on solo efforts. A Ballardvale defense led by Matthew Ely and Brian Twomey, forced multiple St. Robert's B turnovers, controlling the game's tempo from the start. Tim Foley managed the single St. Robert's integer of the half with a free throw.

Ken Oppenheim finally tallied a fieldgoal for St. Robert's, but Brent Campbell responded with two points for Ballardvale. Arsenault closed the scoring with a final-period jump shot.

Arsenault finished the game with nine points while Campbell, Darling and Sullivan had a bucket apiece.

Oppenheim and Foley had the lone SRB markers, although Robert Derba, Ian Begg and Damon Bellorado turned in fine floor games.

St. Augustine's A, 14-10

St. Augustine's A had to ward off a late South surge to preserve a share of first place in a well-played game.

Rob Wyatt canned two free throws, putting South up 2-0 early. But Todd Murray of St. A's matched Wyatt with a pair of charity tosses to forge a 2-2 tie after one period.

The second quarter belonged to St. A's. A Gene-Doran lay-up, Toby-Guzowski bucket and another Doran hoop powered SAA to a seemingly insurmountable 8-2 halftime advantage.

South refused to close up shop, however. Wyatt stuck consecutive free throws, then Samuel McLellan found net to cut St. A's lead to 8-6 after three.

McLellan tied the game early in period four, only to have St. Augustine's suddenly get hot. Todd Murray, Brian Landry and Guzowski would all find the range by the game's conclusion to seal the victory.

McLellan nailed a final jumper to claim game-scoring honors with six. Wyatt had a perfect night at the line, hitting on all four chances. Also contributing to the South cause were Chris Fisher, Spencer Wendt and Erik Dahlstrand.

Doran, Murray and Guzowski all had 4 for the winners, while Landry added 2. Patrick Russo and Dan Gilbride provided defensive heroics.

St. Robert's C, 10-9

St. Robert's C and St. Augustine's D engaged in two different games, with the first half being a clinic in frustration and the second half a fine display of fundamental basketball which wasn't decided until the buzzer.

Free throws were all either team could muster in the first two quarters. John Donovan hit 2 and Beth Daly 1 for St. A's, while John Camillus provided 2 for St. Robert's.

Donovan sank two more charity tosses to begin quarter three, giving St. A's a 5-2 edge. But, St. Robert's then began tingling twine as Camillus and Frank Paone hit home for a 6-5 lead.

Mike Lombard opened the closing period with a score and teammate John Wyler made two free throws to put SRC up 10-5. St. A's came right back on hoops be John Bowman and Beth Daly to make it 10-9, but the rally faltered there, just shy of a dramatic comeback victory.

Camillus paced the winners with 4 markers, Lombard, Paone and Wyler each had 2 while Jessica Ventullo and Magen Landry were effective on defense.

Donovan led St. A's with 4, Daly tallied 3 and Chris Bowman had 2. Marie Delaney and Peter Volpe played with poise.

St. Augustine's C, 15-2

St. Augustine's C encountered little trouble in disposing of parish rival St. Augustine's E.

Peter Cookson led the A attack with 5 points, while Charles Towne knocked home 4. Single baskets were registered by Peter Gilotti, Elisa Wilson and Chris Cocoran. Dan Hansberry was a defensive standout.

Frank Morris claimed the one E basket, although Stephen Sheppard and Shana Lynch turned in solid performances.

St. Augustine's F, 8-2

The St. Augustine's F record once stood at 1-4, but has since climbed to the 500 level with three straight wins.

David Carroll, Patrick Harding and Matthew Ragonese led an aggressive defense and created numerous opportunities for the offense against Temple Emanuel.

Cara Morrison put St. A's ahead briefly 2-0, but Temple's Jeremy Scherr answered to knot the game at 2-2 after one period of play.

Mike Morrow of St. A's owned the scoring sheet after that, hitting for two points per period while everyone else

Andover 6 - Lynn 4

After spotting first-place Lynn a two-goal lead, Andover came storming back for the victory. The home club was led by its leading scorer, Ryan Moynihan, who reached two scoring plateaus in the contest: the 50 goal and 100 point mark in this the 36th game of the season.

Todd Norton (assists Novelline, Moynihan) made it 2-1 in the middle period and center Steve Neal tied it up (assists McKew, Sheehy) to end it into the final stanza at 2-2.

There was no scoring until the final five minutes of the game. Lynn scored only to have Moynihan (assists Finneran, Novelline) tie it up 3-3. Andy Novelline (assist Moynihan) gave Andover its first lead of the game 20 seconds later. Lynn made it 4-4, but two goals by Moynihan in the final 27 seconds, both set up by Novelline, made it a well deserved 6-4 final.

Andover 9 - Triton 0

Andover returned to the Valley League and continued its torrid scoring pace by shutting out Triton behind the great goaltending of Freddie Sunderland who had come up to give regular netminder Jay Stella a breather. Goal scorers were Ryan Moynihan and Stella who notched 2 each plus 2 assists. Andy Novelline had 2 assists and Brendan Sheehy, Brendan Finneran and Paul Allard had 1 each. This was probably the best that the defensive pairing of Finneran and Allard have worked both ends of the ice this season.

Pee Wee A

Andover 12 - Amesbury 1

Peter Arthur's hat trick and a four-goal performance by Keith Cutler led the Pee Wee As to a lopsided 12-1 victory over Amesbury last weekend. Eddie Chaisson chipped in 2 goals and Scott Halecki, Colin Nix and Sean Darwin each added 1. Todd Allard and Jim Morris picked up assists and Chris Pothier played his usual gutsy game at defense. Gary Bleszinski continues to play sparkling defense in his new position as does Joe Iarrobino. Mike Murnane and Brian Novelline were solid in net, allowing only one goal.

Andover 1 - Wakefield 4

Andover ran into a superb goalie and a strong Wakefield club on Sunday in Danvers and had many scoring chances turned aside. Halecki and Nix put on a textbook passing display, but still came up empty handed. Darwin, Arthur and Cutler were also denied. Chaisson finally put the locals on the board in the third period with help from Halecki.

The defensive team was outstanding, keeping Wakefield within reach for the duration. Morris, Allard, Pothier and Bleszinski broke up play after play and cleared the redshirts from goalies Murnane and Novelline. Unfortuantely, a strong effort by the entire team could not penetrate Wakefield's goal line.

Church League

was shut out. He had a basket in the second quarter, two free throws in the third and a jump shot in the fourth.

The game, but ineffective, Temple club showcased the talents of Albert Shenker and Jeff Forlizzi.

Letters Again At Northeastern

Brien Moriarty is no longer a star quarterback on the gridiron at Andover High School. He has made it as a defensive back for the Northeastern University football team and has earned his second varsity letter in as many years because of his efforts.

"Brien really came into his own this season," Husky head coach Paul Pawlak said. "He will be a fixture in our lineup for the next two years: he's earned his way in."

Moriarty, a 6'2", 200-lb. sophomore, saw most of his playing time at cornerback where he recorded 48 tackles, 34 of which were unassited, deflected a handful of passes away from opposing receivers and picked off one errant pass.

The Huskies finished the 1984 campaign with a deceiving 3-7 record. Despite numerous injuries, the university's toughest sechedule ever and a streak of bad luck, they found themselves out of only one game, the opener at Delaware St.

Against the brawn of Division IAA, the Huskies represented themselves well. Three losses in a row against UMass, Lehigh and the University of Rhode Island saw the Red and Black outscored by only 22 points. They battled eventual semifinalist URI blow for blow, before finally getting beat 30-22 on a touchdown pass from Division IAA ECAC Co-Player of the Year.

Moriarty is a 1982 graduate of Andover High School where he captained the football team and was named All Merrimack Valley Conference in his senior year.

To Greet Canadian Guests

Players from five Andover teams will welcome guests from St. Laurent, Quebec, into their homes on Friday for a weekend of hockey and friendship. This cultural, educational and sports exchange will feature a series of games at Phillips Academy on Saturday and Sunday, but the visit's primary purpose will be for the children of these neighboring countries to get to know one another in a setting that is familiar to both.

Andover teams involved are the Squirt A and B (9 and 10 years old), Pee Wee A and B (11 and 12 years old) and Bantam B (13 and 14 years old). They will travel to St. Laurent, a suburb of Montreal, on March 8.

Bobby-Jo Morris is coordinating the activities with help from Mitzi Norton, Cathy Hesenius, Karen Walsh, Lynn Allard and Yvonne Roycroft.

Skiers Lose To Nashoba

The racers of the Andover Ski Club, Buddy Werner League, battled against a strong Nashoba team on Saturday, Feb. 10, at the Bradford Ski Area. Final score was Nashoba 237, Andover 220.

Redman Succeeds Collins

By Laurie LoPresti

George Redman and J. Everett Collins

In 1926, when J. Everett Collins founded the Andover Male Choir, little did he know of the impact his stage presence, character and musical excellence would make upon Andover and the surrounding community. He did not know that this small group of enthusiasts would, within three years, become the Andover Choral Society. Nor did he envision the existence of such a group remaining to perform Handel's "Messiah" for 55 consecutive years. But, such has been the turn of events for this now well established choral group and its magnificent maestro.

J. Everett Collins has nurtured the Andover Choral Society and molded it in likeness to himself. This group has been the essence of "Andover's Music Man" and greatly exemplifies his dedication to quality performance of great choral works as well as the enrichment of continued artistic growth within such a community as historic Andover and the surrounding valley.

This past year Collins direcred his 55th and final performance of Handel's "Messiah" before announcing his retirement from the society. Though he remains the executive officer of the board of directors, so to speak, "Uncle John," as all close to him are known to address him, has chosen another of Andover's native sons to replace him as director of the Andover Choral Society.

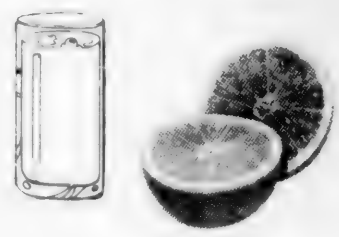

George H. Redman began his career much in the same manner the society's founder. He began his singing career in the seventh grade with the East Junior High chorus, which was then under the direction of J. Everett Collins. Then, while continuing his studies at Phillips Academy, he became involved within the music department in general as a member of the Fidelio Society. At Hamilton College, Redman studied with Dr. Lee Spear and graduated in 1979 with a B.A. in Music. He received his Master's degree in Choral Conducting at the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music where he

Rydell To Appear

Bobby Rydell, teenage idol of the '60s who had them swooning in the aisles with such hits as "Volare" and "Kiss in Time," will bring his musical magic to the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts in Andover on Saturday, March 9, at 8 p.m. The Dovells and Motown favorites, The Marvelettes, will also appear.

Following the performance, guys and gals will take off their shoes for a Sock Hop, complete with pizza and soda in the cafeteria of Andover High School. Disc jockeys from WCCM, co-sponsor for the event, will spin platters made popular during the early 1960s. Concert-goers should dress appropriately (wear your letter sweater) and be ready for the obligatory dance contest.

Bobby Rydell, Frankie Avalon, Fabian and Bobby Darrin were the dream dates of an entire generation of young girls. An accomplished singer, dancer and actor, Rydell continues to be one of the most popular entertainers in show business, with club appearances throughout the U.S., Canada and Europe.

"Do the New Continental," "The Hully Gully" and "Bristol Twistin' Annie" are a few of the five million records sold by The Dovells, Jerry Gross and Mark Stephens. They were responsible for some of the silliest songs in pop music history, including "Here Comes the Judge," which they recorded under the name The Magistrates.

The Marvelettes, all female musical group, turned out more than a dozen hits for Motown Records in the 1960s. "Please Mr. Postman" and "Beechwood 4-5789" are two of the label's biggest sellers.

Redman

studied with Dr. Elmer Thomas. Redman served as the assistant conductor of the men's glee club as well as musical director of the Walnut Hills Christian Church. Prior to the completion of his education in 1984 he worked with such noted persons as Robert Shaw, Margaret Hillis and Roger Wagner, to name a few.

It is evident that J. Everett Collins' thoughtfulness and future intentions for the society are clearly exemplified within the character of this new director. In essence, it is but a "student" of his who exhibits the keen and precious sense of vitality and sincerity necessary for the continuation of a tradition so highly revered within this area. Not only would the holiday season not be the same without the annual "Messiah," but the society would not be the same without the likes of men such as J. Everett Collins. For the Andover Choral Society has become not only a chorus of local reknown, but an Andover tradition which serves as a reminder of the traditional values which are the roots of the town, the valley and its succeses. It is such organizations as the Andover Choral Society which are responsible for enhancing the spirit of Andover, of its young and old alike and, in this case, proving that such a diverse group can work together to sustain and enhance tradition.

Andover Choral Society membership is open anyone who enjoys singing classical choral works. Rehearsals are on Tuesdays from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Collins Center, Shawsheen Road, Andover.

Students To Tour Europe

A spring vacation two-week tour of classical Greece and Italy will be an option for Andover High School students enrolled in world civilization or foreign language classes. Students will spend a week in Greece, having an opportunity to be a part of the Greek Easter celebrations as they visit the important sites and museums. They will then fly to Rome for four days to learn while exploring the many sights of the Eternal City. Their last stop will be a three-day visit in Florence where students will see the most famous of Renaissance art and sculpture.

Information about the tour may be obtained from Sarah O'Brien, Michael Marcoux or Patricia Dye, faculty chaperones.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Sometime during pre-school, a child understands that money has value and can be used to obtain possessions. He or she doesn't know much about it and probably is not aware of the difference between a penny and a dime. By the age of four, most children know that two coins are more desirable than one coin, but they don't understand much beyond that. With the aid of television advertising — the child now begins to desire toys or other articles that appear on the screen or are seen in stores. It will be difficult for your child to comprehend why a toy can be bought one day and not another. You'll find yourself saying "No" a great deal during this period. Sooner or later your child will have learned that he/she can't have everything.

Cellist Soloist To Appear

The world reknown cellist, George Neikrug, will solo in the Schumann Cello Concerto, Op. 129, with the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic on Sunday, March 10, at 3 p.m. at Lawrence High School. George Monseur will conduct the orchestra in Prokofiev's Sixth Symphony.

Neikrug has performed solo recitals and concerts throughout Europe and the United States. He has been principal cellist of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and the Los Angeles Phlharmonic and artist-in-residence at the Bach Music Festival and the Spoleto Festival. Since 1971 Neikrug has been on the Boston University faculty, having been on the faculty at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and the University of Texas.

The Sixth Symphony of Prokofiev is not heard as often as the well known Fifth Symphony. This neglect may be the result of the Communist Party censoring Prokofiev in 1948 for indulging in forbidden modernisms, principally in the Sixth Symphony. Today it is becoming part of the basic repertoire with exciting new harmonies and counterpoint.

Tickets can be purchased at the door or through Margaret Jowdy.

Alumnae Greet Students

The Haverhill-Andover Wellesley College Club held its annual get-together for applicants to the college on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 20, at the North Andover home of Barbara McCahill. Seniors from local area public and private schools attended to meet and ask questions of recent alumnae and current Wellesley students.

Alumnae addressing the group on a Wellesley education included Debra Najjar of Lawrence, an attorney with the Boston firm of Choate Hall & Stewart; Barbara McCahill, teacher at Brooks School in North Andover; Ann-Ellen Marcus of Andover, attorney with Mintz, Levin, Cohen, Ferris, Glovsky and Popeo of Boston; Susan Brownell Hodgson of Andover, teacher; and Janet Fromer of North Andover, photographer and editor.

Wellesley College, founded in 1870, is a four-year liberal arts college for women located in Wellesley. The Haverhill-Andover Wellesley Club supports the college through its activities which include book awards to outstanding high school juniors and tours of the college for high school seniors.

Tea Time

The British had a good idea in afternoon tea time. Most of us need a break from daily tensions by mid-afternoon, so why not imitate our English cousins for a half hour or so? Sit down with a steaming cup of tea and some snacks for a relaxing chat. If your're at work, you can still have "tea-time" if you keep a few tea bags or a jar of iced tea mix in your desk. You may find that the rest of the day passes more pleasantly.

Workshops

The Displaced Homemaker Program, funded by Bay State Skills and located at the Greater Lawrence Y.W.C.A., 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence, will offer a series of workshops, beginning in March, to assist women in decision making, goal setting, skills assessment, assertiveness training and resume writing.

All intersted women 35 years and older who are divorced, separated or widowed are encouraged to participate. For further information call, or stop in at the Y.W.C.A.

Joe Inscoe as Fagin, Zachary Stier as Oliver and Paul Hermanson as the evil Bill Sikes in a scene from Oliver.

"Oliver" To Be Staged

"Oliver," one of the best loved hits of the musical theatre, will come to Andover's J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts Thursday, March 14, at 7 p.m. The National Touring Company's production of this delightful story of a London ragamuffin has delighted audiences, young and old, for more than 20 years.

Lionel Bart's musical adaptation of Dickens' "Oliver Twist" tells the story of a boy who flees from a squalid orphanage into an old codger's school for thieves before he finds happiness in his grandfather's opulent arms. With songs such as "Food, Glorious Food!" with urchins lining up for their daily gruel, to the hearty hollering of Fagin and his boys singing "Consider Yourself at Home," "Oliver" is a part of everyone's best theatre memories.

The original London production opened in 1960 and ran for more than six years. The Broadway engagement ran 774 performances prior to successful tours throughout the United States.

Tickets are available at the Collins Center Box Office daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and at Andover Bank, Andover and North Andover branches, and Just For You, 36 Main St., Andover.

New York Vocal Arts Ensemble To Perform

The New York Vocal Arts Ensemble, under the direction of founder and pianist Raymond Beegle, will perform Thursday, March 14, at 8 p.m. in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher on the Merrimack College campus.

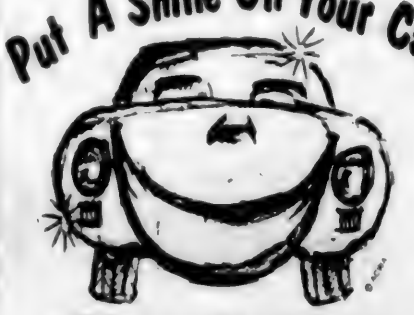

Winner of the first prize in the 36th Geneva International Music Competition, the New York Vocal Arts Ensemble will sing works by Brahms, Shostakovich, Stephen Foster, Scott Joplin and others. The program will include something for every musical taste, songs from Elizabethan England, lullabies, Jewish folk poetry melodies and gems from America's own folk music heritage.

Founded by Beegle to re-establish a place in the contemporary concert world for a long-neglected major portion of traditional classical vocal literature, the New York Vocal Arts Ensemble made its debut in May 1971 at the New York Cultural Center in a program ranging from Elizabethan madrigals to Schoenberg canons. In the past 13 years the Ensemble has given more than 600 concerts throughout the United States, Canada, Central and South America and Europe, including a recent State Department tour of Iron Curtain countries.

They have recorded six albums on the Vox, Turnabout and Desto labels, including its recent release of "Music of the House," a collection of works composed for informal home gatherings. The Ensemble has made appearances on radio and television, including performances on the "Today" show, "Camera Three" and "For Our Times." They have premiered major works by such composers as Shostakovich, Vollinger and Pelemans and by American composers Robert Ward, Gregg Smith and Gregg Sandow.

The March 14 concert is the third of four events in the 1984-85 Merrimack College Concert Series. The Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Paul Gay, will perform on Sunday, April 28. Victor Rosenbaum of the New England Conservatory will perform Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 4 in G Major.

Tickets may be reserved by calling or writing: Concert Series, Merrimack College, North Andover.

Hospital Gets Accreditation

Bon Secours Hospital recently received a three-year Certificate of Accreditation from the Joint Commission an Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH), a private, non-profit organization responsible for promoting quality health care throughout the nation.

According to Wiliam L. Lane, director of Bon Secours Hospital, "This accreditation recognizes the hospital for its commitment to maintaining high professional standards for quality health care. We are very fortunate at Bon Secours Hospital to have not only state-of-the-art equipment and services, but also a top-notch staff of health care professionals."

Participation in the JCAH accreditation process is voluntary and involves an on-site survey by a JCAH team of health care professionals which evaluates various hospital services and departments. The team applies a set of standards developed by an advisory committee of representatives from national health care organizations.

The JCAH, established in 1951, is governed by representatives of the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Dental Association, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

Swim Programs Set

Swim programs, sponsored by the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society, for persons with disabilities will be held on the following schedule:

Preschool at Phillips Academy on Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. starting April 3. Bernie Pierce will be the instructor.

Adults at Andover-North Andover YMCA on Fridays from 1 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. starting March 8.

Children ages 5-17 at Andover-North Andover YMCA on Sundays from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. starting March 3. Beth Morrissey will be the instructor.

These programs are supervised by water safety instructors. Participants will be aided on a one-to-one basis by volunteers.

The Easter Seal Society conducts some 38 swim programs each fall and spring in communities across the state. Last year more than 1,000 participants were enrolled.

For further information, contact the Easter Seal Society's Northeast Office, 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence.

Volunteers with lifesaving or water safety certificates are urgently needed. Anyone interested should contact the Easter Seal Society Northeast Office.

Echo Program At West Junior High

The ECHO (Gifted and Talented) Program at West Junior High recently completed its first major, independent study unit of the school year. Students from Mr. Gangi and Miss Eichner's language arts classes combined to work on a special literature unit. Each student is responsible for four assignments that must be completed before a specific due date.

All assignments revolve around the readings "To Kill A Mockingbird," "A Separate Peace" and "The Old Man and the Sea." The unit involves the creation of a literature trivial pursuit game, the use of portable computers usng a microcomputer courseware and group and individual written compositons.

All work is done in class on Thursdays and Fridays. The students in these accelerated classes complete the regular language arts curriculum in three days per week

Open House

The Somerville Hospital School of Nursing, 125 Lowell St., Somerville, will hold an Open House on Wednesday, March 6, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for people interested in a career as a professional registered nurse. Faculty and nursing students will be available to provide information about the program and conduct tours of the school and hospital.

Dave, Scott and Gary with '54 Chevy and '75 Camaro

Andover Auto Body: 30 Years Combined Experience

Dave Townsend considers his 30-year old Chevy, pictured, a symbol of the 30 years of combined experience he and his staff—Gary Kalip, Scott McLellan, Charles Townsend and Ken Hatem - offer Andover Auto Body customers.

The old Chevy might also be considered a "before". Its bare metal is waiting for paint and repairs. Conversely, the Camaro next to it is an "after". It came to Andover Auto Body as a rust-spotted, down-at-the-heels auto; now, it is a sleek yellow machine with chocolate striping and fine custom-painted detailing. "We do more custom work, and more rust work, than anyone in the area," says Dave Townsend.

Townsend's high standards for his paint work have always included expert sanding and priming, multiple-coat applications (at least 7), and precision color matching. To keep the paint smooth and dust-free, he has recently installed a "spray booth".

Customizing, in Andover Auto Body's language, can mean more than paint work. The shop customizes cars themselves by reassembling and splicing car bodies. Andover Auto Body also specializes in fiberglass work.

Townsend's crew attacks accident damage with up-to-date equipment, including a frame machine capable of straightening even severely-damaged frames. They work on foreign and domestic cars, trucks and tractor trailor rigs. They even "do" windows - and windshields. Dave Townsend is a state-licensed appraiser; he gives free estimates on auto damage for insurance and repair purposes.

Customer satisfaction means a lot to Townsend. He and his wife Nancy, who works as his secretary, take the time to help customers through the maze of insurance forms that come with an accident; they do their best to match repair times to customer schedules.

For information or an appraisal, call 470-2485, or stop in at 2 Gradall Lane, off Lower Essex Street in Andover, between 8-5 Mon thru Fri and 8-12 Sat.

Do these men know who dunnit?

Depot House of Pizza: Mysteriously Delicious

Holmes opened the parcel with a gloved hand. A rich, spicy odor filled the air.

"Why," I exclaimed, "It's a meatball grinder. Fresh! Proof that the crime took place today."

"So it might seem." Holmes' smile was smug. "But I suspect it took place shortly after eleven at night. And not here in this lonely field; in the city. Somewhere between the Depot House of Pizza and the victim's home."

"But Holmes—the sauce. The smell. The bread—fresh, I tell you. Besides," I added indignantly, "Yesterday was Sunday. Even those shops that remain open on Sunday close at 9 PM."

Holmes lifted the roll - it was crisp on top, I could see, and quite soft and airy in the middle. The meatballs within were beautifully browned and splashed with the fragrant sauce. "You see," he said. "Everything made at the Depot is fresh. Homemade. The rolls, the pizza crusts, the sauce, the meatballs—everything. Therefore, my dear Watson, it is no mystery that it remained fresh longer than you would suspect. And Depot IS open on Sunday. Indeed, every day, from 11 AM to 11 PM."

"But the scene of the crime —"

"Elementary. He had to be en route with the sandwich, Watson. No one can bring a Depot grinder home and not eat it immediately. It is simply impossible. The odor; the color —"

I brightened. "One thing we may conclude: he was a rich man. To buy such a grinder —"

"Nonsense, Watson." Holmes' eyes twinkled. He bent to my ear, being a man of discretion, and whispered the price - incredibly modest, it was. "But the victim did have exquisite taste. Everything at the Depot is excellent. Grinders; the pizza; the Greek salads crammed with vegetables and feta cheese; the spaghett. —"

I left Holmes in the field soliloquizing over the unfortunate victim's body, and hurried off to the Depot House of Pizza at 53 Essex Street in Andover. I did not even pause to ring them up at 475-0055.

Some things, you see, are more important than solving great mysteries.

ANDOVER BOARD OF HEALTH

The Board of Health Town of Andover, Massachusetts, acting in accordance with, and under the authority granted by M.G.L. Chapter 111, Sections 30, 31A and 31B hereby adopted the following rules and regulations at a regularly scheduled, duly posted meeting of the Board heal on February 11, 1985. These regulations shall take effect forthwith upon publication.

DUMPSTER REGULATIONS

FOR THE STORAGE, REMOVAL AND TRANSPORTATION OF GARBAGE, TRASH, REFUSE, OFFAL AND OTHER OFFENSIVE SUBSTANCES

1. PERMIT REQUIRED AND FEE: No person or property owner, authorized agent or corporate entity shall maintain or operate trash or refuse dumpster, with a volume capacity greater than (five) 5 cubic yards, without first obtaining a permit from the Board of Health. The permit fee shall be $10.00 per calendar year or as amended by the current "Health Division Fee Schedule". All permits shall expire on December 31, of each year. The permit requirement shall apply to all dumpsters within the Town of Andover whether for residential, commercial, or industrial use.

2. REQUIREMENTS AND PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING A PERMIT:

A. A completed application, on a form supplied by the Board of Health, accompanied by the appropriate permit fee, shall be submitted at least three days prior to the placement of such dumpster or at least thirty days prior to the renewal date of such permit.

B. An inspection and sanitary survey of the in-place dumpster and surrounding area for full compliance with the following standards will be conducted by an agent of the Board.

1. Each dumpster must be located at a distance from the lot line so as not to interfere with the safety, convenience or health of abutters or residents. The dumpster location must be approved by the Board of Health.

2. When deemed necessary by the Board of Health, it may be required that a dumpster site be enclosed or screened by the property owner or authorized agent.

3. The property owner or agent shall maintain the dumpster area free of odors, scattered debris and overflow. The owner shall take appropriate action immediately to empty the contents when a dumpster is full. Each dumpster shall have a cover or lid and such cover shall remain closed at all times, except when depositing or emptying contents.

4. Temporary dumpster permits (gondola or roll-off type) will be issued to a property owner for a period of 30 days, or similar temporary needs. Said permit may be renewed for an additional 30 days upon application. The property owner or authorized agent shall comply with all the provisions of these regulations which are applicable to the operation of dumpster. There shall be a fee of five dollars ($5) payable to the Town of Andover for each temporary dumpster permit.

5. The contractor shall have his/her name and business telephone number conspicuously displayed on all dumpsters under his/her control.

6. No dumpster shall be used to dispose of hazardous materials or waste.

7. Permits may be suspended or revoked by the Board of Health for failure of the dumpster contractor or the property owner, or his authorized agent, to comply with the requirements of these regulations.

8. All contractors placing dumpsters shall be licensed in accordance with the above statutory requirement with the Andover Board of Health and shall dispose of dumpster collections only at approved waste and landfill disposal sites.

3. DEFINITIONS: For purposes of these regulations:

A. DUMPSTER shall mean any trash container or receptacle or compacter, exceeding five cubic yards in capacity, which is used to dispose, store, contain or transport garbage, offal, trash, or refuse or other waste.

B. PROPERTY OWNER OR AUTHORIZED AGENT shall mean the record owner of title to the property where any dumpster is located, or, his/her authorized agent including, but not limited to, disposal contractors.

C. CONTRACTOR shall mean the person responsible for placing, emptying and removing the dumpster by service contract with the owner or his authorized agent.

D. HAZARDOUS WASTE shall mean any material listed or determined as such by existing or future local, State of Federal law, regulation or rule. Special waste will also be considered hazardous waste for purposes of these regulations.

4. SEVERABILITY:

If any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase, of these rules and regulations, shall be decided invalid for any reason whatsoever, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of these regulations, which shall remain in full force and effect; and to this end the provisions of these regulations are hereby declared severable.

5. PENALTIES:

Whoever violates or fails to comply with any provision of these rules and regulations shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars in accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 111, Section 31. Permits may be suspended or revoked by the Board of Health for failure of the dumpster contractor or the property owner/his authorized agent to comply with the requirements of these regulations.

MOVING

If you're moving across the country this year you're not alone. Thanks to economic upturn, more firms are moving more of their people. In one area, for instance, I.B.M. moved 8% employees during the first half of 1983 by the same period of 1984 they moved 32%.

Whether you're moving now or in the extra busy June to September period, it's smart to book a mover a month in advance. Be sure your mover is licensed, have him come in person to give an estimate, even then it's a good idea to accompany the van to the scale to check the weight. Full value insurance is usually advisable, otherwise losses are recompensed only by weight.

If you're moving across the country, you'll want the help of a real estate pro who can market your current home and help you get settled in your new location.

You'll get the help you want when you list with —

PLANNING BOARD
PUBLIC HEARING

In accordance with Chapter 40 G.L. Section 5, notice is hereby given that the Andover Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing, Tuesday, March 12, 1985 at 8:00 P.M. in the Memorial Auditorium, Whittier Street, to consider the following amendment to the Zoning By-law.

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Andover Zoning By-laws, as amended, so as to change the Zoning District SR4 Single Residence A, to G.B., General Business, of a certain parcel of land located at 12 Bartlett Street Andover, and more particularly bounded and described as follows.

The land with the Buildings thereon situated on the easterly side of Bartlett Street, Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a stake and stones on Bartlett Street at land once of A.M. Robinson thence running northerly by Bartlett Street, eighty-eight 88 feet more or less to land once of James H. Smith thence easterly by said land once of said Smith and by land once of Parker one hundred fifty (150) feet more or less to a stake, thence southerly by land once of Richardson seventy-one and one quarter (71¼) feet more or less to a stake at the northeasterly corner of land once of Robinson; thence westerly on a line at right angles to Bartlett Street one hundred fifty (150) feet by said land of said Robinson to the point of beginning, containing 11,934 square feet more or less, subject to easements on record

HOW IMPORTANT IS CREDIT HISTORY?

You are not alone if you were affected adversley by the last, deep recession. Unemployment reached its peak and many families had trouble paying bills. Say, this was your position. Your credit rating had sunk to a new low. However, you are now back at work and have saved enough for a down payment on a home. Will your poor, past credit picture prevent you from getting a home loan?

Maybe and maybe not. The lender will look at many factors, especially the approximate amount of the down payment, your total family income and, yes, also your past credit history. So, your credit history is only one of many factors to be considered.

If your credit has improved markedly, it would be to your advantage to contact your local credit agency for a copy of your file. If there are discrepancies, they can be cleared up. When you approach the bank, be honest and forthright and your chances for approval will be enhanced.

• • • • •

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

K. of C.

as the Vycorp building.

But Betty Potvin of Brown Street said rush-hour traffic is already "difficult" in the area, and adding more industry would increase that problem. West Andover roads "can't take the traffic," she said.

Michael Lombard of Osgood Street said his street "has become like a mini-Route 93." Neighbors do not object to the developer's proposal, he said, but they want traffic problems resolved before the site is developed.

And Donald Barber of Brady Loop said Andover should "get our roads in shape" before "spot zoning" the K. of C. parcel.

George Kachen of Bellevue Road said, "The issue is creeping industrialization." All of the town's industrial zones are now developed, or owned by industries about to develop them, he said, so Andover can expect to see more requests to rezone residential land for industrial use.

If the town wants to maintain its residential character, Kachen said, "At some point we've got to put a stop to this."

Susan Poore of Osgood Street, a School Committee member, said that the Frontage Road parcel should remain residentially zoned. The developer is seeking "their economic gain at our expense," she said, " 'our' being the neighborhood and 'our' being the town."

Poore added that Andover has become "one of the major business areas of the state," and that industry is "biting away bit by bit" at the town.

Albert Talarico of Marigold Lane commented that the "constant creeping" of industry in Andover is "like a cancer. Andover is supposed to be a town of homes, with a country atmosphere."

James Sullivan of the Knights of Columbus defended the rezoning proposal, saying that since the organization acquired the land in 1961, "Town meeting after town meeting, the town has changed the zoning" surrounding the parcel. It is now the only site overlooking Route 93 that remains residential, he said.

Sullivan said the K. of C. is no longer interested in hosting social events in its building (which Charter would take down), and would like to sell the property and donate the profits to the community.

Chairman Bradshaw concluded the one-hour hearing by noting, "We are not victims of rezoning." Only a two-thirds vote of town meeting can rezone the site, she told the townspeople, adding, "You have to be there to vote."

Annual town meeting defeated the K. of C.'s rezoning proposal four years ago. A similar article appeared on last year's warrant, but was withdrawn before the meeting convened.

Pine At Country Elements

You would have to travel a good deal more than a country mile through England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Scandinavia to find a collection of antique pine furniture like the pieces at Country Elements in Newburyport.

Proprietor Tracy Lamport regularly travels abroad to scour the farm houses, antique shops and auctions for her pine prizes. And after they are found Lamport sends a trucker to retrace her steps, collect the furniture and deliver it to nearby furniture strippers for refinishing.

"The nice thing about these pine pieces is that they actually cost less than their counterpart reproductions sold across the country in department stores," said Lamport. "And they will appreciate in value as opposed to today's new furniture

There are advantages to buying antiques that outweigh monetary gain, said Lamport. The older furniture is, for the most part, hand made and of high quality. Many of the pieces are unique in design, too.

Interior designers find antique pine has a great versatality and mixes well with both contemperary and traditional furnishings and with rattans of all kinds.

Located at 141 Pleasant St., in Newburyport, Country Elements is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and from 1 to 5 p.m., on Sundays.

Doherty Wins Award

J.B. Doherty Realtors have received an award for helping homeowners relocate.

Chris Doherty, president of the 9 Bartlet St. company received a plaque honoring the company as a member in the "RELO Million Dollar Referral Sales Club." Formal recognition of the honor will be made this summer at a RELO conference in San Francisco.

J.B. Doherty is one of nearly 1,200 member companies who belong to the RELO service, a nationwide referral network of independent realtors specializing in helping families sell a house in one area and buy a home in another.

"It's all part of the no-cost, no-obligation RELO service provided by the RELO service network," said Doherty, "the largest independent real estate rerral organization."

As a RELO member the Doherty realtors helped more than one hundred transferring individuals and families find homes in the area last year. This RELO award is the second given to Doherty Realtors.

Plan For Retirement With An IRA

You owe it to yourself to take a tax break this year and plan for a future with an individual retirement account, said Ronald R. Hill of Baystate Financial Services.

With an IRA if you earn $2,000 or more a year you can contribute $2,000 to your IRA account. If you earn less you can contribute less, explained Hill. An IRA accomplishes two things, first you lower your taxable income. For example, on $2,000 of earned income someone in the 40 percent tax bracket will pay $800 in taxes unless the money is in some way sheltered.

Second, an IRA helps plan for retirement. By the time you retire you may not be entitled to a corporate retirement plan or social security income and that's where an IRA can help.

"You owe it to yourself and your family to both take control of your own retirement planning and make yourself more aware of the range of IRA investment options available to you," said Hill. Some of the investment ideas are certificates of deposit stocks, money market funds, bonds, annuities, mutual funds, government securities and real estate.

Hill advised "not to settle for the advice of an investment advisor or financial planner who represents the products of only one company. No one offers the best of everything," he said. "Instead consult a true broker who will shop the marketplace in your best interests."

Baystate Financial Services, said Hill, is such a company. In business since 1901 Baystate has "worked hard to earn the trust of long term clientele," said Hill.

Many Leasing Cars Instead Of Buying

Leasing an automobile has become a major portion of the business at Merrimack Lincoln Mercury said John Wall, president of the Methuen company.

When questioned about this trend Wall said more families are on strict budgets today with transportation needs still a major consideration. For years people traded cars every few years, often before the finished paying for the car they were driving, explained Wall. So they were really paying for the use of the car and not ever owning it, he said.

The advantage of leasing is that you can know your exact transportation costs at all times with a lease tailored to your individual or family needs, Wall said. At your option you can choose the length of time, the mileage you want to drive and even include your maintainance and insurance if you like. The real advantage to this type of lease is that you only pay for the use you get from the car, not the car itself. For this reason lease payments are generally much lower than regular car payments and no down payment is needed

"Consumer leasing appeals to an ever-widening segment of buyers," said Wall, "and by 1990 I can see as many as half of our buyers being prospects for this type of program."

Victor Tops Local Sales

According to their most recent statistics The Victor Company, Inc. realtors have listed and sold more residential properties in the area than any other real estate company

Victor President and Vice-President Bill and Bunny Maren run the 168 North Main St. Andover company, in business since 1959. Both Marens have been active in local civic, business and charitable organizations and have served as local and state officer of the Realtor organization. They also have presided over the Greater lawrence Board of Realtors.

Victor's Andover office employs 18 full-time staffers, a relocation director and a rental manager. There is also a West Boxford Village branch office employing four sales associates.

"Experience is one of the company's keys to success with a most stable sales staff," say the Marens. Three of the Andover staffers have been with the company for more than ten years and the average sales assiociate has eight years of real estate experience.

The Victor Company is a member of the Homes for Living Network, the Nation's 1 Marketing Network and the local representative for Trans-lo Relocation Specialists.

Borrow money to save money?

Sound crazy? Not necessarily, as more and more Andover Bank customers are finding out.

Let's face it, "tax time" finds many of us temporarily short on cash, and as attractive as IRA's are, if we don't have the funds to join, we simply have to pass up this excellent investment.

That's why we've developed a plan to allow you to borrow the funds to open or add to your Andover Bank IRA before April 15th, at an unusually attractive rate.

You'll gain two benefits immediately. First, your contribution will be tax deductible, and second, your earnings will be tax-deferred. And we'll show you how the tax benefits far outdistance the cost of your loan.

At Andover Bank, we're committed to helping you make the most of your future. And after all, your future is our future.

Peek To Market Cellular Telephone Licenses

The American National Group has selected Peek Financial Services, of Windham, N.H., to be its exclusive northeast representative for the marketing of their turn-key cellular telephone licensing program.

According to Michael Godfree, president of American National, Peek possesses both the technical and marketing expertise to communicate the essential components of their program.

Robert L. Peek, president of Peek Financial Services said, "the appropriate investor for this program is an individual who can afford to part with $10,000 with the very high probability of becoming a winner." Peek said his company plans to market the program through a series of seminars and follow-up interviews.

The American National Group has developed a turn-key cellular telephone license application for the small to medium sized investor, ranging from $10,000 to $100,000. The license application enables an investor to participate in the FCC lottery for marketing areas having populations ranging from 300,000 to 500,000.

On the day a license is awarded Barron's has valued a cellular license to be worth $20 times the number of individuals living in a given marketing area. Thereafter, it is expected to increase as the cellular company is constructed and becomes operational.

Because the average value of a license is expected to be as much as $10,000 on the day it is awarded it is easy to calculate that an average of 150 applicants in each marketing area would result in each applicant receiving up to a 600% return on investment, said Peek.

Appointed Vice Pres.

Andover resident Arthur J. Troy has been appointed assistant vice president, network planning, for New England Telephone in Boston.

Troy, formerly division staff manager, marketing, began his telephone-industry career as a member of the technical staff at Bell Labs in 1963. He was a switching engineer at AT&T from 1969-71.

During 1981-83, his assignemts were associated with the construction budget and the divestiture planning process. Since 1983 he has been a member of the marketing department.

Troy and his wife, Donna, have three children: Michael, Shannon and Nancy.

DeWolfe Emerson Adds Appraisal Division

The DeWolfe/Emerson company has added an appraising service to its real estate business, at 76 Main St., here in Andover.

The Appraisal Services Division will perform appraisals for individuals as well as for banks and attorneys. The new appraisal service will not replace the firm's complimentary analyses of their client's homes or the appraisals of the DeWolfe/Emerson customer's homes.

Robert E. MacInnis, of Westwood, will run the appraisal division at DeWolfe/Emerson. Before assuming his new post MacInnis had been the sales manager of Emerson Real Estate, in Westwood, for a decade. He is also the secretary of Greater Lowell Board of Realtors and has served on the professional standatds committee of that board for seven years, the last five as its chairman. MacInnis was recently elected to serve on the Massachusetts Association of Realtors Professional Standards Committee.

The DeWolfe companies include 15 sales offices in Eastern Massachusetts that serve over 75 communities. At the DeWolfe/Emerson companies there are two independent Relocation Counseling Centers, which handle over 1,200 transferring families each year, and another department, called T.E.C., which specializes in the sale and lease of commercial, investment and industrial real estate. In 1984 the DeWolfe companies handled over $200 million in residential sales

Graphic Design Firm Moves To Andover

Lapham/Miller Associates, one of New England's leading graphic design firms, has moved its Boston office to 34 Essex St., Andover.

According to Ken Miller, Lapham/Miller president, "With more than twice the space of our Boston office, our new facility augments our capabilities while accommodating our rapid growth. In addition, we are better able to serve our growing client base in the high technology belts outside of Boston and in southern New Hampshire."

Adds Ralph Lapham, Lapham/Miller executive vice president, "By moving to Andover we are filling a real need in the area for full-sevice communication design. Many of the nearby companies are travelling great distances to find a comparable range of professional service. The beauty of our Andover location is that we've become more accessible to many of our clients outside of Boston, but we're also 25 minutes from downtown and can still easily service this important market."

With backgrounds in graphic design, architecture and communications, Lapham and parner Miller combine their experience to lead an organization that has won wide acclaim for the development of effective visual communication pro-

Andover Firm and Salem State College To Collaborate

Salem State College President James L. Amsler and John P. Bowen, president of Geographic Systems, Inc. (GSI) of Andover, have announced that they have signed a letter of agreement in which both the college's department of geography and GSI will benefit by sharing resources. The initiation of the collaborative effort took place at a luncheon in December at GSI.

The proposed agreement was officially recognized for its merits by Gov. Michael S. Dukakis on January 10 in his State House office. He proclaimed the effort between Salem State College and high-tech industry as "an exciting endeavor in keeping with this administration's goals and one from which, most importantly, students will profit." He congratulated Amsler, geographers Dr. Ted Pikora and Dr. Bill Hamilton and officials from GSI on their initiative and foresight.

Geographic Systems, Inc. is the Massachusetts-based developer of sophisticated computer software tools for Geomarketing, an innovative approach to solving marketing problems that combines geography, demographics and market research.

Cooperation between GSI and SSC's geography department will occur in three important areas. First, after initial instruction, Salem State students will provide a vital, time-saving service to GSI by updating their cartographic coordinate database called Geofiles. Geofiles are used, along with marketing data, to produce maps used for market targeting, sales performance and analysis and site selection. Second, GSI will provide software worth $250,000 to be run on the computer system at Salem State. GSI will train students and faculty in the development of software for instructional and field applications. The third phase will be Project 500. GSI will invite selected senior-level students to take part in a paid summer internship at selected Fortune 500 companies who are GSI customers.

In addition, Salem State may provide courses whereby GSI's Fortune 500 clients can train to use their software and receive college credit simultaneously. "Salem State College is committed to providing solid career education," says Amsler. "I see our collaboration with Geographic Systems as an important hands-on experience for our students and an opportunity for our faculty to continue their research. The college's agreement with GSI is representative of our continuing desire to enter into cooperative efforts with business and industry."

The geography department consists of more than just cartography, however. Internships such as the GSI-SSC collaborative are available in the department's other concentrations as well. The environment, urban-economic geography and travel and tourism also provide opportunities for on-site experience. The entire department was recognized nationally when the Journal of Geography printed a survey in 1981 which proclaimed SSC's geography department as the number one undergraduate teaching geography department in the country and rated them four overall.

GSI president Bowen indicated that the proposed agreement would be mutually beneficial. "GSI was initially attracted to Salem State because we were impressed with the quality of work, training and background of the college's interns," he said. "Further investigation revealed that their geography department was among the top-rated in the country and that, as a result of the quality of the department and the proximity, it was a natural relationship."

Pikora supports Bowen's feelings and credits his students, as well as Hamilton, who came to Salem State College from Rutgers State University of New Jersey as a specialist in computer-assisted cartography. "In the short time that Bill has been with us," said Pikora, "he has significantly strengthened our major in cartography."

The Caron Funeral Home
30 MAIN STREET
NORTH ANDOVER, MA 01845
PRIVATE PARKING FACILITIES NON-SECTARIAN

A good investment....Many Andover families consider making pre-arranged funeral plans a good investment. Why? First of all, such a plan assures that upon their death their exact wishes are complied with, thus affording them peace of mind. Secondly, all prepaid funeral payments are placed in custody in individual accounts, ensuring that the accrued interest will cover any increase in cost when services are needed. A third reason is that all of our expense statements are itemized so that one is charged only for the services one requests

We at the Caron Funeral Home in North Andover have assisted more than one hundred Andover families in making such arrangements during the past year. Currently, we are planning a new, centrally located funeral home in Andover, where we shall continue to serve the needs of the Andover community, and to merit the trust and confidence you have placed in our firm. We at the Caron Funeral Home consider this our investment in Andover. Your presence at the Annual Town Meeting on April 1, 2, 3 will help to make this a reality.

Quality At Estate Builders

Andover residents looking for expert remodeling need to look no further than Estate Builders in Haverhill.

Owner Kim Janotta runs Estate Builders and Custom Colonial Woodworking, at 129 Rosemont St., with what he says is an unparalleled team of craftsmen and tradesmen.

"My goal is simply to provide the highest standard of quality craftsmanship that can be found anywhere in the northeast," said Janotta. "The people that work on a project are the tops in their trade and when we all get together we are an unstopable team."

"Projects which might take others four weeks to complete are often completed in half the time because our craftsmen are that much more efficient," Janotta added. "It really turns these projects into a lot of fun and out clients love it because we all are so confident in each others workmanship that we fully guarantee everything."

"The ideal project for us is a large house addition or renovation where a lot of special care in the finish work is necessary. It's these kinds of projects that set us apart from the journeymen and tradesmen and allow us to show our quality, he said. "And these are the projects that make us the most proud."

Appointed GTE Director

Robert L. Pokress has been appointed director of corporate network engineering for GTE.

Heading this newly-created organization, Pokress is responsible for directing GTE's long-range network planning activities and coordinating network research and development programs in support of the telecommunications operations of GTE. He is located at GTE Laboratories, the company's research and development facility in Waltham.

Pokress was with AT&T Technologies where he was advanced network systems planning manager since 1983. He served for six years with Bell Laboratories as a technical manager with responsibilities in digital switching development and network planning.

Pokress received a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, a master's degree in engineering science from George Washington University and a master's degree in operations research from the University of California at Berkeley. He is a member of the Communications Soceity of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and the Operations Research Society of America.

Pokress and his wife, Susan, have two children and will relocate from Little Silver, N.J., to Andover.

grams for business, education and health care. "We take particular pride in our ability to work with clients from many different sectors. We feel we are successful at getting inside our clients' heads and pinpointing their specific cmmunication objectives," says Miller.

Lapham/Miller's new offices are located in the Chickering House, a National Historic property, built in 1840 in the distinctive Carpenter Gothic style. Lapham/Miller's sensitivity to architecture and design is evident in their renovation of the property. Working with Drummey Rosane Anderson, Inc. of Newton and August Associates of Boston, Lapham/Miller has transformed the historic house into comfortable spacious offices while adding a large, skylit design studio and a dramatic gazebo to serve as a conference and planning room.

Comments Dick Plank, Lapham/Miller senior account executive, "It's important to all of us to work in a comfortable, aesthetically pleasing atmosphere, where creative ideas can be shared informally. The design of the new space, coupled with the peace and quiet of the setting, provides a more satisfying, productive environment."
